INDIA'S ARMY CHIEF QUITS AS TROOPS FLEE CHINESE

Other Staff Leaders Expected to Resign

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—India's army chief of staff has resigned in a political dispute following stepped-up invasion attacks by the Chinese Communists in India's northern border areas, it was reported yesterday.

Meanwhile it was reported that Indian troops were in retreat after bitter fighting against the Chinese in at least one area. The Indian soldiers, unable to obtain supplies in the isolated and weather-pounded area, destroyed border check posts and withdrew from Longju. Their radio was silent.

POLITICS BLAMED

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya quit his post of staff chief because politics was not kept out of the army, the Calcutta newspaper, The Statesman, said.

The newspaper said the air force and navy chiefs also were expected to resign.

Other sources reported Thimayya also was dissatisfied with the promotion lists announced by the defence services.

The resignation reports came after Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told parliament Monday that India must solve its border dispute with Communist China by words, not war.

MILITARY CRISIS

Nehru conferred with his army chiefs as the military crisis grew.

Calcutta dispatches meanwhile reported that the Chinese Communist incursion from Tibet was gaining momentum after Red troops invaded the Siang and Lohat division of the wild and rugged northeast frontier agency.

It was also reported that Communist invaders had entered the Himalayan state of Bhutan, an Indian protectorate.

BAD WEATHER

An ammunition shortage and bad weather were blamed for the Indian retreat. It was said to be impossible to drop supplies and ammunition to beleaguered border posts from the air because of the bad weather.

The reports said "a few" Indian frontier posts near the McMahon line had been lost to Chinese troops that swarmed across the border from Tibet.

The McMahon line is the vaguely-defined northern border of India, adopted by treaty with China and Tibet in 1852. The Chinese have since claimed some of the same territory along the border that India insists is hers.

IN TERROR

There were earlier reports that Chinese troops had entered the tiny Himalayan kingdom of Bhutan and residents of Bhutan and the independent state of Sikkim were fleeing in terror.

Anti-Communist tension in India led to Nehru's decision to address parliament. He rejected a member of parliament's suggestion that India bomb away the portion of a Red Chinese road the communists built across Indian territory in 1957.

Nehru said his government's policy would be twofold in the present crisis with China: "To strengthen our defenses and not go to war to settle disputes but settle them through conferences and negotiations."

U.S. and Canada Model for World

LONDON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has held up U.S.-Canadian relations as a model for the rest of the world.

In his television appearance with Prime Minister Macmillan, Eisenhower remarked: "Here is a border more than 3,000 miles long, and yet it is defended by nothing but friendship. There's not a gun anywhere along it.

"That is the kind of thing we must strive to achieve everywhere, whether we are geographical neighbors or not," he said.

Ike, Mac Agree

Arms Race Must End

LONDON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan agreed in their three-day talks to concentrate a Western diplomatic offensive on a new attempt to end the world arms race.

Diplomats who attended some of their meetings reported Monday Eisenhower and Macmillan are issuing secret directives to their experts to work out a new disarmament program.

It is to be ready for negotiation with Russia early in 1960 and will provide for a total cutoff of nuclear weapon output under tight controls.

These other important decisions were disclosed:

On negotiations with Russia, the two countries will try to continue the personal exchanges dramatized by Nikita Khrushchev's forthcoming trip to the U.S.

Action to arrange an early summit conference on the Berlin crisis will be deferred pending outcome of these talks.

If Russia indicates something useful will be achieved Eisenhower then will agree to attend a top-level meeting.

On the Red Chinese-Indian frontier dispute, the two decided against any open offer of aid to Prime Minister Nehru for fear of embarrassing him, but agreed China is unlikely to attack India.

On the uprising in Laos, they decided to provide all the backing that may be needed to sustain the Laotian government.

On the unity of the Atlantic alliance, both men decided to try more actively to support French President de Gaulle in his quest for an Algerian settlement.

On aiding the world's have-not nations, the two agreed to broaden the existing pattern of their aid programs and to seek Russia's co-operation in a world program along these lines.

'Peace Imperative In Our Time'

LONDON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, in an unprecedented TV fireside chat with Prime Minister Macmillan, declared Monday night he favors a summit conference provided that Soviet Premier Khrushchev demonstrates he wants peace as much as the West.

"If we are to have a summit," Eisenhower told Macmillan, "Khrushchev must understand as you and I do that peace is imperative in our time. If Khrushchev realizes this, then the summit meeting would be profitable."

Macmillan said when he read Khrushchev's Berlin ultimatum last November, "I felt the danger" of a drift into war. That was why he went to Russia last February and things "have not turned out too badly."

Referring to the president's invitation to Khrushchev to visit the U.S. Macmillan said: "I feel that with your initiative we are now in a better position."

"Well, Harold," replied Eisenhower, "I think there is one thing we may be very sure about. When we were talking about peace we were talking about something that is imperative in our time."

'Glad Ike's Gone' Fishmonger Says

WENDOVER, England (AP)—"I am a great admirer of President Eisenhower, but in a way I am glad he has left our quiet community," said the fishmonger. "Too much security."

The fishmonger delivers to Chequers, country home of Prime Minister Macmillan, where the president was a guest for two days.

"For years I have been delivering fish and all of a sudden I can't get in with my automobile," said the fishmonger.

"There was much telephoning to the mansion, a quarter of a mile up the path, and finally I got past the first barrier, only to be stopped and questioned four times more. I am glad to say that in the end the fish got to the place where they ought to be, the kitchen of Chequers."

The milkman had the same trouble.

"Years in these parts and now strange policemen try to keep me out," he complained.

Diners Illustrious

LONDON (Reuters)—President Eisenhower dined Monday night as Prime Minister Macmillan's guest of honor with an illustrious company that included three former prime ministers—Sir Winston Churchill, Sir Anthony Eden and Earl Attlee. There were 38 at the dinner.

Churchill, 84, had flown specially from a Riviera holiday to share in the welcome to his old friend the president.

Boys Turned Into Torches

NEW YORK (UPI)—A teenaged boy turned two seven-year-old boys into human torches yesterday.

Police commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy immediately stepped in to stem the wave of juvenile violence in New York by sending a 1,400-man police task force into the streets to battle teenager terrorists.

Kennedy called a news conference at the end of nine days in which four teenagers were killed by young toughs and a number were injured.

About a score of slayings have occurred during the summer juvenile crime wave and nearly 40 persons have been injured.

"We expect stern justice . . . we are meeting the problem with all the manpower available."

Kennedy called policemen and women off gambling and prostitution details to track down street hoodlums. He transferred 300 rookies from the police academy to crime-ridden slum districts.

Kennedy hastily called the news conference after a day in which two Puerto Rican boys suffered serious burns when they were doused with cleaning fluid as they played in a tenement and two alleged young killers in another case were nearly mobbed.

A 17-year-old boy was seized for questioning in the human torch case.

A passerby heard the boys' screams and rushed into the building. He managed to get the two boys to a streetcorner where two policemen found them in the midst of a crowd.

Typhoid Fells Eight

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont. (CP)—Eight typhoid fever cases have now been reported in this area about 120 miles north of North Bay, Dr. E. R. Harris, local medical officer, said Monday.

The victims are known to have attended a gathering of about 200 six weeks ago. A number of others who attended the gathering are being examined for traces of typhoid.

Nuclear Peril

Refuse Warheads CCF Tells Canada

WINNIPEG (CP)—The CCF national council Monday called on Canada to refuse to store nuclear warheads in this country.

The possession of warheads by an increased number of nations seriously increases the danger of nuclear war, the CCF statement said.

"In addition, the possession of nuclear warheads increases our military dependence on the U.S. and in consequence diminishes our influence for good in the councils of the nations."

De Gaulle Hopeful Of U.S. Backing

PARIS (Reuters) — President Charles de Gaulle holds out hope that President Eisenhower may endorse his viewpoint on revolt-torn Algeria during their talks this week, informed sources said Monday.

French officials think the chances are good for the statesmen to reach agreement on Algeria, France sharing American atomic secrets and France securing joint control of American atomic missiles on French soil.

Some advisers indicated the French president looks to the talks, starting Wednesday, with a certain amount of optimism.

Daily 'Dip' $10,000 At Exhibition

TORONTO (UPI) — Police report pickpockets have been doing a roaring business at the Canadian National Exhibition with more than $10,000 a day stolen since the CNE opened last Wednesday, mostly by "professional "dips" who came from the United States.

Red Mobs Battle Calcutta Police

CALCUTTA, India (UPI)—Communist-led mobs battled police in partly-blacked out Calcutta last night in an attempt to paralyze the life of the city.

Many policemen were injured in clashes during the day. Several civilians were injured when police dispersed a mob in front of the state governor's residence. Shoes, shirts and other articles of wearing apparel littered the street after the police charge.

The rioting apparently started as a mass protest demonstration against the city government's food policy.

Police dispersed 25,000 anti-government demonstrators with tear gas barrages which infuriated the demonstrators. They hurled brickbats at every police car and motorcycle in sight.

The rioters also smashed electric light bulbs to darken areas where police concentrations were reported.

Police lost control of the mobs in some areas for a while.

Strike Report May Be Made

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks may now have received a report from mediator Dr. John J. Deutsch on his efforts to settle the B.C. coast lumber strike.

But the labor minister wouldn't confirm nor deny it yesterday. Nor would he say if he had extended the 14-day period ended yesterday which Dr. Deutsch was given for his mediation and report.

BEFORE CABINET

If the report was received, however, it could have been taken before a cabinet meeting held late yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Deutsch, retiring head of the University of B.C. economics department, was reported by The Canadian Press to have left Vancouver by air for Toronto Sunday. He will assume a new university post in Kingston, Ont., this month.

The strike is now going into its ninth week.

PNE Lion Slashes Trainer

VANCOUVER (CP) — A three-year-old African lion attacked his trainer during a Shrine circus performance at the Pacific National Exhibition here Monday.

The trainer, Prince El-Kigordo, 47, was seriously wounded and underwent surgery in hospital Monday night.

The lion, Caesar, clawed his left shoulder and left side from the hip to the armpit. The trainer was hurt by the same lion May 1 at Springfield, Mass.

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Crown Prince Savang Vattana flew here from the royal capital of Luang Prabang Monday to be installed as regent of Communist-threatened Laos during the illness of his father, King Sisavang Vong.

There were no new tactical reports of the fighting.

Apologetic Message Sent Poles 20 Years After Nazi Invasion

BONN (AP)—A German message of peace and friendship toward the Polish people was broadcast by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Monday night on the eve of the 20th anniversary of Hitler's attack on Poland.

Adenauer apologized for that attack and expressed his conviction that "the new Germany will one day be a good neighbor of Poland."

The 83-year-old chancellor explained he was not making a political speech but was expressing the special word that was due to Poland which, through the invasion of Hitler Germany and the Soviet Union, became the first victim of the war.

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Flesch

One of the world's forgotten philosophers is a Polish author named Stanislaus Leszczynski, who lived from 1677 to 1766.

Leszczynski's life was unusual—to put it mildly. He was the son of a Polish nobleman. When he was 27, Poland was invaded by the Swedes. The Swedish king, Charles XII, thought it would be a good idea to install a Polish puppet king and picked young Leszczynski, who thereupon became Stanislaus I of Poland.

This lasted five years, while the Swedes fought with the Russians over who was going to have Poland. The Russians won, at the famous battle of Poltava, and Leszczynski, now 32, turned into an ex-king. Not knowing what else to do with him, Charles XII gave him the duchy of Zweibruecken, near the German-French border, which happened to be vacant at the time.

Somehow, after a few years, Zweibruecken was given to someone else. Leszczynski didn't mind and retired to a quiet ex-king's life in a small town in Lorraine. Then, at 48, he had a lucky break and his daughter Marie married King Louis XV of France.

Back to Work Again

Leszczynski spent a pleasant eight years or so, enjoying himself as the king's father-in-law, but then he had to go back to work again. In 1733 Louis XV suddenly felt like gobbling up Poland and told his father-in-law to go to Warsaw and start all over again as a king.

So at the age of 56, Leszczynski had to pack up again, travel across Germany day and night (he had to disguise himself as a coachman) and go through another phony election by the Polish nobles.

Leszczynski's second reign lasted a little over two years, but he had very little fun. Most of the time he stayed in Danzig while the Russians besieged that city and finally, two days before it fell, he had to disguise himself again (this time as a peasant) and escape back through Germany to France.

When the Russians and French got around to signing a peace treaty, they again had the problem of what to do with Leszczynski. Zweibruecken was long gone by that time, but happily there was the duchy of Lorraine open. (Actually, it wasn't open but they talked the current duke, Francis, into trading it for Tuscany. A couple of years later Francis married the Empress of Austria, Maria Theresa, so everybody was happy.)

A Splendid Duke

Lezsczynski made a splendid Duke of Lorraine. He set up a pleasant little court at Luneville, filled the city of Nancy with lovely 18th-century architecture, founded an academy, and corresponded with all the literary lights of the time. (He commissioned Rousseau to draft a new Polish constitution, just in case.)

At the age of 88, one year before he died, Leszczynski published his first — and last — book. It was called "The Works of a Benevolent Philosopher" and consisted of maxims and reflections a la Marcus Aurelius.

Leszczynski couldn't quite match the high literary quality of the earlier monarch-philosopher, but he didn't do too badly. Though most of his ideas were fairly orthodox, he occasionally came through with an original contribution. Like this one, for instance:

"Have the courage to wear thick boots in winter, and insist on your wife and daughter doing the same."

Legal Leader Says

Canada's Dual Law Is Here to Stay

VANCOUVER (CP) — The basic duality of French and English law in the legal system of private laws in Canada is here to stay but this does not preclude continuous development of both nor common loyalty to one country, Renaut St. Laurent, son of the former prime minister, told fellow lawyers at the Canadian Bar Association convention here.

"Though these laws of ours differ from those which are practised in other Canadian provinces in a great many respects," the Quebec lawyer said, "the differences are probably not much more pronounced than those which are to be found between the laws of Scotland and the laws of England."

George Edmonds of Toronto was elected chairman of the junior bar section, succeeding Gilles Rouleau of Baier Comeau, Que. Vice-chairman is Kenneth Houston of Winnipeg and secretaries are Jacques Barbeau, Ottawa, French, and Charles Gonthier, Montreal, English.

B.C.-Alaska Corridor Road 'Complete in Four Years'

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Gov. William Egan said Monday construction of the first corridor road from southeastern Alaska to B.C. will take "not less than four years to complete" and will be linked eventually with a panhandle ferry system.

The road is to follow the Stikine River to meet a road along the Iskut River, 175 miles north of Prince Rupert.

He said no promises of a B.C. link with a corridor road have been made, but indicated agreement in the future is expected.

In Wake of $50,000 Theft

Salk Black Market Feared

MONTREAL (UPI) — Theft of Salk vaccine from the University of Montreal early Monday has opened up the possibility of a black market.

Dr. Lionel Forte, assistant director of the microbiological institute at the university, said the theft creates black-market possibilities but did not know how the Salk vaccine would be sold.

Officials at the Connaught Laboratories in Toronto, who shipped the vaccine to Montreal last week, said they knew of no existing market for it.

According to the laboratories, their next batch, which will be ample for all of Canada, will be ready Sept. 10.

Detectives last night questioned underworld informants in the hope of uncovering some lead in the theft of 75,000 shots of polio vaccine, worth $50,000.

Underworld sources hinted the vaccine may be worth $250,000 in an under-the-counter transaction.

The theft was committed by three armed men, their faces covered with silk stockings, who locked up night watchman Albert Beland in a monkey cage at the laboratory and made off in Beland's car with 10,000 vials of vaccine, enough for 75,000 shots, taken from refrigerators at the institute.

"The theft is quite a blow to the province's anti-polio program," said Dr. Forte.

It was to be distributed to polio-stricken areas, including Montreal, where more than 500 polio cases are under treatment.

"If the crooks don't keep the vaccine in refrigerators at the proper temperature — 40 degrees fahrenheit — it'll be no good in two days," said Dr. Forte.

Experts said it was worthless.

WATER FOR CAESAR'S BATH

When Julius Caesar bathed you can be sure the very latest Roman bathroom fittings were used. The plumbing, of course, was lead. In Rome 2,000 years ago all the "best people" used lead.
Overlooking a few barbarians who poured it over their enemies, lead really has a remarkable story.
In the Middle Ages when magnificent cathedrals and palaces needed roofs, rolled lead was found to have ideal properties for the job. With gunpowder, lead was a "natural" for easy casting into everything from bird shot to musket balls.
Printing presses needed a metal and again lead in alloy form had just the right characteristics for casting type.
Man delved into science and made strong chemicals that ate through most metals in a few hours. Once again lead, as pipe and tank linings, saved the day and tamed these corrosive liquids.
Telephone and telegraph wires required an ultra-reliable coating so they could lie buried at the bottom of the sea for many years without attention — lead was chosen for this vital service.
Today, we find lead just as modern a metal as it was in the time of the Caesars. We use it every time we start our car. There's lead, although we can't see it, in some of the finest glassware on our table. Lead's unique structure makes it without equal in the field of atomic shielding; the latest stereophonic recording is made more perfect by a lead compound in the pick-up and that beautiful enamelled finish on our kitchen appliances is better because of this metal. Lead even went into orbit last year, shielding scientific equipment in a satellite.
Lead is a metal with a splendid past record, an increasingly useful present performance and a promising future. As one of the world's largest producers of this metal we are proud of the contribution our product is making to modern civilization — a contribution greater in size and importance today than at any time in its long history.

Dalai Lama Asks UN Help

U.S. Warm to Tibet Plea

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States is giving "immediate and sympathetic consideration" to the appeal of the Dalai Lama for United Nations help for his communist-subjugated people of Tibet, the state department said yesterday.

Department press officer Lincoln White said U.S. officials have not as yet seen the full text of the young god-king's appeal, issued at New Delhi, India, where he is living in exile following the Chinese communist suppression of the Tibetan revolt.

"However," White added, "this appeal surely will be received with compasion and understanding by the American people who have shown such a strong desire to alleviate the plight of the suffering Tibetan people."

As far as the U.S. government is concerned, he added, "we are giving the appeal of the Dalai Lama immediate and sympathetic consideration."

In India, it was reported that the Dalai Lama, the spiritual as well as temporal ruler of Tibet, would go to New York himself to press his plea for United Nations support for his country's fight for "freedom and justice" from the red Chinese.

The Dalai Lama was scheduled to meet Wednesday with Indian premier Jawaharlal Nehru. It was presumed a decision would be made then on whether he would try to appear personally before the U.N. General Assembly which opens Sept. 15.

TORONTO (UPI)—Canada will go after its first international class land speed record on the Bonneville salt flats in Utah in September with 27-year-old Ed Leavens of London, Ont., driving an Austin-Healey Sprite. Leavens will be driving the specially prepared car in an attempt to achieve a speed of more than two miles a minute.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE BREAKS DOWN FAT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fat . . . actually breaks it down. It is an established medical fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fat is broken down and forms a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your body, precious liver bile helps break down fat the same way. Many foods reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down this fat . . . unblocks it . . . for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills exclusive formula of natural, vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat in your body.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, get Carter's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Carter's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat.

He Hid in Attic Four Years To Save Face

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — A young Chinese student who flunked an engineering course his father demanded and hid in a church attic for four years to save face, was offered a chance yesterday to redeem himself.

Cleared of all charges, Chheng Guan Lim, 28, of Singapore, was turned over to University of Michigan authorities by immigration agents, pending his own decision on what he will do.

CHHENG GVAN LIM
. . . 'it was like death'

Lim's father, who had insisted on an engineering career for his son, died last March while Lim was living in hiding in the rafters of the First Methodist Church. The father never knew what had happened to his son.

University authorities said he could study political science or take pre-law training.

"It was like death," Lim said in describing his voluntary imprisonment.

He hadn't spoken to anyone in the four years. He lived on scraps of food picked up from the church kitchen following social activities.

He brushed his teeth with burned match sticks, cut his hair with a pair of shears and trimmed his beard with a set of tweezers.

His secret was discovered after private police were hired to check complaints of prowlers.

A small shed at 9891 Sixth Street, Sidney, was demolished yesterday afternoon by fire believed started by children playing with matches.

Sidney volunteer fire department had the fire under control in 10 minutes.

Damage was estimated at $200.

Judges as Mediators

AS has happened from time to time in this province during the years since the war, with labor negotiations assuming unprecedented importance in public affairs, criticism has been provoked in Ottawa by the wide use being made of the services of judges as conciliators and mediators. It is reported that there is a possibility of agreement between the Dominion and the provinces whereby some degree of restraint may be placed on the appointment of judges to duties falling outside the functions of the courts of law. Justice Minister Fulton is on record as having stated that the appointment of judges in quasi-judicial capacities is "extremely undesirable."

This discussion comes at a time when the pressure of judicial work on the courts is increasing so severely that many additional appointments have had to be made, and when civil litigation and criminal trials are subject to delay because the courts are overworked. The courts, the litigants and lawyers and the whole process of justice can ill-afford the delays resulting from diversion of judges from their regular functions to others which may remove them from the bench for long periods. Moreover, only a proportion of a judge's work is done on the bench; a vast amount has to be dealt with in the privacy of his chambers or his home.

Yet the harmonious and speedy settlement of labor disputes is as important to the economy of the nation as speedy trial is to the dispensation of justice. There is a large body of competent opinion in favor of judges as mediators, because their training and experience fit them above all others for the role of wise and impartial referees. Their superior qualifications in this respect have been most marked in British Columbia, where on numerous occasions senior members of the judiciary have restored harmony and brought about agreements when all other efforts had failed. Whatever may prevail elsewhere, Mr. Fulton's fear of judges becoming involved thereby in political controversy has no foundation in this province.

The difficulty which has arisen, and which is serious, appears as one more argument for the creation of labor courts with presidents of the calibre of judges but without dual functions.

On His Own Doorstep

WITH nations as with individuals it all depends on whose ox is gored. When something comes close to home the viewpoint alters sharply as self-interest becomes operative. India offers a classic example at the moment. It has become alarmed overnight by the infiltration of Red Chinese troops into a corner of the state of Kashmir.

The situation is full of irony. For a good decade now Premier Nehru has viewed the Communist threat with extreme complacency. Almost at times he seemed to act in the role of godfather, reserving his strictures for the West to which India is attached as a member of the Commonwealth. Even the rape of Hungary two years ago did not draw from him any condemnation of the Soviet regime.

This Olympian detachment has been rudely shattered. Red Chinese troops are reported to have taken over an Indian border post, and to be massed on the frontier. Reports of other Communist Chinese forces aligned along the Tibetan border with Nepal and Bhutan have caused uneasiness as India sees itself menaced by the kind of encroachments elsewhere that hitherto have been viewed with calm.

The Red Chinese pressure on Kashmir may well be a gesture, for Peiping must know that any overt act against India would invite military aid for that country. India does not cling to its Commonwealth connection for nothing. Observers see in the Kashmir move a rebuke to embarrass Premier Khrushchev in his talks with President Eisenhower, to which Peiping is believed to be opposed. The liaison between Communist China and Soviet Russia is on occasion as delicate as that among the Western alliance, and obviously Mr. Khrushchev would not agree to an irritation of this kind at such an awkward moment.

Indian troops have been dispatched to safeguard the Kashmir border, but diplomacy has been invoked to restore the situation. One does not expect a major flare-up, but the incident should serve to remind Mr. Nehru of the latent peril that lurks in a Communist neighbor. Certainly it should open his eyes.

Armed Gangs Out

THE surprising thing about the fracas at the midway of a downtown carnival on Saturday evening is that no arrests followed. If the incident has been described correctly, an organized gang of young ruffians set out to take armed reprisal on a booth attendant; were stopped by carnival workers defending their property; and then disappeared into the night. Meanwhile an occupied tent had been set on fire, looting attempted, and enough time had elapsed to bring three fire engines with their crews to the scene. The police later closed the carnival.

Regardless of the merits or otherwise of any dispute between a booth attendant and a member of what has been referred to as "the Quadra Street gang," no one is justified in taking the law into his own hands. The presence on the carnival lot of a group of young hoodlums, some of whom were reported carrying spring knives or short lengths of metal piping, was provocation outside of the law. If arson followed, as it appears in two attempts detected, it can at least be understood that no body of midway workers would take that lying down. Some carnival attendants are described as arming themselves with clubs to ward off an expected attack. That no attack followed and the invaders should leave the scene after the fire engines arrived does not alter the essential elements of what was an incipient state of riot.

That the affair should end with the burning of one tent and some carnival property, with nobody brought before the courts to answer for an open breach of the peace does not seem to be the final answer. This community has no room in it for armed hoodlumism under any pretext or in any guise. If there is in fact such a group of misfits as "the Quadra Street gang" with these proclivities the proper law enforcement authority of the city will be expected to do something purposeful about it. But why no arrests at the scene, when several serious breaches of the law were apparent?

Armed violence is a serious matter, not to be excused on the basis of any personal disagreement over a pitch and toss game. It strikes at the root of public security. Victoria wants no more of it.

Interpreting the News

Outlook Obscure in Laos

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

FOR a small war, the fighting in the far-off kingdom of Laos is raising a big cloud in East-West relations.

Government spokesmen in London and Washington have commented in serious terms on the pro-Communist rebellion in the obscure southeast Asian country. It is freely predicted that chaos in Laos will have a bearing on the forthcoming conferences between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev. Why has Laos become so important?

The map gives one clue. Laos, not much more than half the size of Newfoundland, is landlocked but lies along the big Mekong River, one of the water highways of the east.

The strategic position of the country, exposed to the might of Red China, is a more important factor. Laos touches on Communist China, Communist-controlled North Viet Nam, Cambodia and Thailand.

Some observers see the Communist activity in Laos as part of a plan by Red China to stir up trouble in border states over a vast area. They point to the suppression of Tibet and threats and subversion against such places as Burma, Bhutan, Assam and Nepal.

Although there is much speculation, solid facts are elusive in the struggle for Laos, which until a comparatively few years ago was little known in the West, and then only as the least developed of the three provinces making up Indochina, along with Cambodia and Viet Nam.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

GUY Fawkes wasn't the begetter of the word but perhaps if there had been no gunpowder plot there would be more virtue in referring to a male person as a guy.

At its face value—all words have a queer look if you stare at them long enough—this term should be no less polite than chap or fellow.

Across the line, from whence comes many an apt and expressive colloquialism hard to resist, guy is a work-a-day word. Presidents have used it. It is reaching that stage here too, as one's ears may note any day of the week, and it can be applied as an endearment or the opposite.

The Oxford clings to the notion that guy is U.S. slang, dating from the year this writer was born—albeit there is no connection in this—but its roots go back beyond the Pilgrim Fathers. Webster absolves the word from demerit by listing it simply as an alternative to fellow.

A century ago Anthony Trollope was writing about someone who was dressed up like a guy, thus summoning the shade of poor Fawkes. His memory has been guyed into ridicule, although he was something of an innocent caught in the toils of political intrigue. You can't beat politics for landing someone in the lurch.

For a long time anyway Guy was synonymous with a person of grotesque appearance or dress. Without the capital however the term is respectable even if it has not quite made the grade in the best spoken circles.

As a proper name, Christian or surname, Guy is of course a different proposition. There is nothing guyish about it then. In fact about the time of Henry the Eighth—and he surely was quite a guy—the word was in excellent standing, quite literally meaning a leader.

Had there been no gunpowder plot I daresay it would have remained quite U, indeed.

If one were to say, as these days in Europe they are saying of him, that President Eisenhower is a "grand guy," then the lower case application of this term is also beyond cavil. For he is a leader.

It is in the less inhibited speech of the sports arenas that guy probably flourishes best. From what I read the chap who pokes the puck or the ball into the net is a real worthwhile guy—provided it is not his own net—whereas the referee seems often to be a guy, Fawkes fashion. There are guys all over the ice, and over the air too.

But willy-nilly the term is taking hold as part of normal speech. Perhaps on a formal occasion studied care is taken to avoid it, using the more polite fellow, but as across the line it is assuming a neutral tinge, meaning only a person, male.

Somehow or other, a woman is never a guy, even if she is a sight.

Given time and circumstance this alternative to chap or fellow seems fair to break into the best circles, written and spoken. After all a chap was once a peddler and fellow once belonged to the lower orders. Both chap and fellow moved up into the rarer atmosphere of polite society.

It is all a matter of evolution, and lexicons are never real guys; they always lag behind.

Time makes amend, and if Guy Fawkes is aware of the trends of speech he should turn over in peace. He has been guyed long enough.

Reports From Ottawa

PRIME Minister Diefenbaker billed his recent remarks on tight money as "a few things which need saying." But he didn't say everything that needs saying.

His comments added up to this: The government has no tight money policy. The Bank of Canada discount rate, at a record 6.41 per cent a while ago, needn't stop the chartered banks from making loans at 6 per cent.

He was perfectly right in pointing out that the banks rarely borrow from the Bank of Canada, so the 6.41 bank rate doesn't affect the amount of money the chartered banks have to lend. As a matter of fact, in only 11 weeks out of the last 52 have the banks borrowed from the central bank, and at that only a total of $88,000,000. But this isn't proof of the PM's thesis.

The bank rate is pegged at ¼ of 1 per cent above the average weekly rate for 91-day treasury bills. Thus when it reached 6.41 per cent it reflected a treasury bill interest rate of 6.16 per cent.

It is obviously more profitable for the banks to lend to the government at 6.16 per cent than to other borrowers at the 6 per cent maximum interest rate imposed on the banks by Parliament. Also, it is obviously out of the question for the banks to borrow at 6.41 per cent and lend at 6 per cent.

Diefenbaker suggested that the banks have lots of money to lend without going to the Bank of Canada. Bank managers say otherwise. They assert that they are extended to the limit of the traditional liquidity of the banking system. That means they believe they would jeopardize their stability if they sold more government bonds to get cash to lend—to say nothing of the money they would lose if such sales further depressed the market for government bonds.

Moreover, they are satisfied that such expedients as higher savings interest rates would not bring in much additional cash. Trust companies are paying up to 5 per cent for 91-day money. And, of course, if you have $25,000 you can lend it to the government at 6.16.

The main cause of the credit squeeze is admitted on all sides to be the unprecedented demand for loans, reflecting the great upswing in economic activity. The government contributes to the pressure by its heavy borrowings at rates currently above the interest the banks are permitted to charge ordinary borrowers.

While Diefenbaker says the government has no tight money policy, the Bank of Canada's inaction during the crisis buildup indicated that it had a tight money policy. When the Tories were in opposition they derided the idea that the central bank's policy could be anything but compatible with government policy.

For example, the chartered banks must keep 15 per cent of their assets liquid — 8 per cent by law, and an additional 7 per cent by agreement with the Bank of Canada. If the central bank were to reduce this obligation of 15 per cent to 12 per cent, another $500,000,000 would be immediately available for lending.

Or alternatively, the central bank could buy large quantities of government bonds, thus pushing up their value, reducing their yield, putting more money into circulation, and encouraging private funds to seek other forms of investment, such as loans.

In view of these facts, Diefenbaker's disclaimers sound like those we used to hear from Liberal Finance Minister Walter Harris. They leave an impression that the PM's "few things which need saying" add up to a politician's efforts to slide out from under.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

HAVE you noticed? It isn't the poor who pick up their restaurant check and study it shrewdly. It is the well-to-do. In fact, the more opulent-appearing a gentleman and lady are, the more likely are they to pick up the meal check the minute the waitress puts it on the table and scan it item by item, adding up the total. Ordinary hand-to-mouth people like you and me usually don't even glance at the check except to see the total as we wend our way to the cashier's counter. This, doubtless, is because we don't wish to appear money-conscious.

But it is those who are money conscious who have most of it. As a bank manager of my acquaintance puts it: "The best way to get money is to collect it. And it collects just as rapidly in dimes and quarters as it does in dollars."

A queue of us was lined up at the checkout desk of a summer hotel preparatory to the boat calling to take us to the highway. By long odds the richest guest of the hotel was the only one to quibble about his bill. He took plenty of time to read it, item by item, to question the cashier about this and that, to send for the manager to argue that the rate was not what he had been told on registering. He got $14 knocked off.

In collecting money, however, it is not very admirable to grovel after it in public.

The Switch

A HOUSEWIFE, speaking at a congress in Montreal of Roman Catholic organizations interested in television, came up with one of the most commonsense approaches to the problem of how to protect children from unfavorable influences.

Mrs. Paule Daveluy spoke of the responsibility of parents, which is something that can be exercised right in the home.

If the television broadcasts are as dangerous as many people infer, it is only necessary to remind parents that each television set comes equipped with a gadget that can eliminate undesirable broadcasts. We refer, of course, to the off-on switch, and point out that no one is compelled to tune in on any broadcast.

Eisenhower Journey—III

Mutual Dislike

By RICHARD L. THOMAS,
from Europe

AT the beginning of August an English newspaper published a report that Western German scientists, with the approval of the West German government, were helping the French government to develop their own hydrogen bomb. This report has been emphatically denied, but the fact that it could be made on the basis of credible authority has a significance of its own. Indeed, the denial is not accepted in some quarters.

A few years ago the mere suggestion of active Franco-German co-operation in armaments would have been ludicrous. Today, even if it is not a fact it is no longer an unreasonable possibility and the main reason for it will undoubtedly shock the charitable citizens of the United States. There is no real affection between France and Germany but there is a mutual dislike for the United States, and it does not need a psychologist to emphasize that nations, like people, will unite much more easily against something than for something.

I asked a Frenchman why his country did not like the United States. "They are too arrogant," he answered. "They treat us like poor relations. We have to be grateful for everything. We are, but we are also proud and do not like to have it rubbed in. Because the United States has given us millions of dollars and helped our rehabilitation it does not mean that they own us, or that a wink from the State department is a command."

He reminded me of the story told of President Roosevelt who read a particularly vicious attack upon himself by someone he did not know. "I cannot understand how he can be so bitter. I have never done him a good turn."

I asked a German why they disliked the United States. "First, because they are an occupying power, but we understand that. Second because when they came in 1945 they gave chocolate to all the school children except those whose fathers had been members of the Nazi party. I was a member of the party. I had to be or else I would have lost my job. A nation that can take it out on the children will sell you down the street." It seems the distribution of largesse was one of America's classical psychological blunders.

Too trivial to be taken seriously? Obviously not. It was a little seed but it took root and it is obviously flourishing in the minds of some Germans. True, I found plenty of Germans who like the Americans, but most of them had reservations. Many felt that they were arrogant. I asked an American serviceman about it. "Sure," he said, "What if we do shove them around a bit: we won the war didn't we?" Again it was an "other ranks" comments. No one pretends that it would be approved in Washington but it indicates a psychological weakness somewhere.

Another German said to me: "The worst boss is the man who has come up from the ranks. He knows the tricks. You know he knows them. The boss who hasn't come up from the ranks knows them too, but he pretends that he doesn't. America is a bit like the fellow promoted managing director from the bench. He loves power and uses it. The good boss has the power—and you know it—but he doesn't use it. Americans have been good and generous, but they never failed to tell us how good and generous they have been. They think they have bought us."

There is little doubt that this view is held moderately and perhaps a little more dispassionately by the governments of both Germany and France and by a strange twist of fate it has forged a common bond. The French have no illusions about the Germans. They suffered them for four years and loathed them for four long bitter years. But there was no pretence on either side. Both France and Germany have got a little restive under American domination, and both are anxious to demonstrate their independence.

It has come to a head in France under General de Gaulle who just refuses to accept the poor relative position, and in Germany under Dr. Adenaeur who believes that Germany is now sufficently strong to exert some degree of independence. In both cases it is being done negatively — by threat of disturbing NATO and by a determination to make General Eisenhower recognize their viewpoints under threat of playing into Russian hands, by weakening the Western negotiating position.

The final factor, which I will discuss in my next article, is the not generally realized fact that both Germany and France to a great extent depend, for their internal politics, on an atmosphere of tension. It is a simple and unpalatable truth that neither Western Germany nor France really want an easing of international tension. Germany has thrived on it for years. France has started to thrive on it since General de Gaulle took over. A really peaceful world would make things difficult for both of them.

'Might Have Saved Us' Convict-Editors Say

OTTAWA (CP)—The convict-editors of Kingston Penitentiary's prisoner publication are worried about the possible consequences of escapes from the recently-opened wall-less prison at William Head, B.C.

They express the hope, in the current issue of the monthly G. P. Telescope, that these "teething troubles" of the new institution won't mean the innovation will be removed from the federal penal system.

In an unsigned editorial, the magazine says:

"We behind bars perhaps realise more than anyone else the value of William Head.

"For many of us it is too late; but we can think back of the first 'bit' and how a little of the William Head brand of penology might have saved us that second, third or fourth term we have done since."

The editorial refered to recent escapes of six men from the minimum-security institution near Victoria.

A temporary dormitory has been in use since 1957 at Joyceville, Ont., where a new medium-security penitentiary will be officially open soon, and two escapees from there are still at large.

In their concern about the possible consequences of such activities of unco-operative prisoners, the Kingston convict-editors write:

"Today's penologists are in much the same boat as were the reformers who advocated more humane, remedial treatment of the insane instead of locking them out of sight and ignoring them. Despite violent public disagreement, later events proved their theories right.

"Given a fair chance, events might well prove the William Head project right."

Smallwood 'Smearing' Unions?

WINNIPEG (CP) — An ex-newspaperman turned political leader has charged that Premier Smallwood is out to destroy the trade union movement in Newfoundland.

Ed Finn Jr., Democratic party leader, said Mr. Smallwood decided several years ago the labor movement was becoming too strong and, through a smear campaign and anti-labor legislation, moved to wipe it out.

He said Mr. Smallwood, his henchmen and a dozen big business men control the wealth of Newfoundland and slice up the island's resources like pie among themselves.

" . . . On the island Mr. Smallwood has a captive audience, he has complete control of all media of communication and he maintains a steady stream of propaganda that is almost impossible to evade."

This minister of northern affairs says:
"It's in the bag!"

What's in the bag? A loaf of bread — broken up to last longer. Father is the photographer—with mother and baby brother well back behind him. For this is a highlight of a "camping out" holiday, so carefully planned that expenditures didn't exceed the sum of money set aside for it.

The budget of the Minister of Northern Affairs and National Resources at Ottawa covers a number of departmental branches. Among these are National Parks, Water Resources, Forestry, and Northern Administration and Lands. His expenditures involve millions of dollars.

Money for all departments of government comes through the Minister of Finance who gets it largely in taxes from Canadians such as you. When more money is spent than is collected in taxes, government must borrow from you . . . or else create new money. The creation of new money is one factor that leads to inflation . . . which means your dollar buys less and less.

The government has been spending more than you have been paying in taxes. To narrow the gap between income and expenditures, new taxes have been imposed.

The next step should be to reduce expenditures, or at least hold the line. Undertaking new commitments — adding new welfare or other services — will only make it that much more difficult to pay our way. Tell your M.P. at Ottawa that since you are trying to save, you expect government to do the same.

You also help when you save more by means of life insurance, savings deposits, and the purchase of government bonds. Your savings help to create a SOUND dollar; and this, in turn, helps to create job security for you and more jobs for other Canadians.

A SOUND DOLLAR MEANS A BETTER LIFE FOR YOU

Weakness Continues In Uraniums

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials inched ahead in moderate trading.

Western oils took the big loss on index; down more than one point.

Trans Mountain Pipe, the most active issue, had one of the best moves, up 1 at 12⅞.

Senior base metals were mixed, uraniums easier. International Nickel dipped ¾ at 95¼ but Noranda added ¾ at 51¼. Gunnar Uranium closed down ⅝ at 12, a 1959 low for the issue. Campbell Chibougamau added 25 cents at $7.30 among junior coppers.

Giant Yellowknife gained 40 cents at $8.50 and Kerr-Addison was up ¼ at 20¾ in golds.

Seniors were off almost to an issue in western oils. Home B dipped ⅞ at 14 while Pacific Pete was down ½ at 13⅞. Calgary and Edmonton and Canadian Husky gave up smaller fractions.

Utilities Stiffen

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices were fractionally irregular at the close of quiet trading.

In firmer utilities, Power Corporation increased 1¾ to 62 and B.C. Power strengthened ⅝ to 36½. Calgary Power went up ¾ to 92¾.

Refining oils and pipelines were irregular. Trans Mountain Pipe Line went to 12¾, up ¾. Interprovincial Pipeline increased ⅜ at 54½. Losses were shown by Trans-Canada Pipe Lines at 26½ down 1, and Canadian Oil down ½ at 27.

General Motors leaped 3¼ at 55. Royal Bank went up 1 at 84. Page Hersey lost 1¾ at 30⅜.

Most mines and oils showed weaker tendencies. Eight-cent losses were taken by Golden Age at 60 and Titan at 51. Gui-Por Uranium lost 4½ cents at 10 cents and Beauce Placer lost 15 cents at 65 cents.

Big Gain in Ford

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and motors advanced strongly in an otherwise slack stock market. Trading was moderate. Ford made the biggest strides in the automotive group rising 3¾ and making a new high.

Youngstown Sheet, talked of as a split candidate, was outstanding among steels, rising 4⅜. U.S. Steel, the most active of its group made a new high and gained 2⅝.

Coppers Higher

VANCOUVER — Isolated gains were made in copper stocks but otherwise changes were small and trading was light.

Craigmont advanced to 3.35 and Cowichan to 67 cents, while a smaller gain was made by Mid-West at 23 cents. Bethlehem eased to 1.07.

West-coast lumber stocks were easy on lack of news about a strike settlement. Crown Zellerbach was $20½.

London Stock Prices

LONDON (CP) — Prices pushed higher. Gilt-edged securities continued their recovery from recent setbacks.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP) — Some activity occurred in flax with exporters and international accounts credited with modest purchases.

Reports indicated a small export business with a parcel lot going to the United Kingdom. Prices were somewhat irregular as offerings tended to increase on upturns. Prices showed occasional hesitation.

Rye prices showed an easier tone with selling attributed to a Dominion Bureau of Statistics report which forecast a larger crop than expected.

$10,000,000 Issue on Sale Today

More PGE Bonds if Needed

Small Investor Will Get Everything He Asks For

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Premier Bennett's new five per centage parity bonds go on sale this morning at banks and trust and investment houses.

Officials at the B.C. treasury believe that the $10,000,000 issue will be oversubscribed, but they do not expect to get a final figure on the sum total of the applications for at least ten days.

One thing is almost certain. The small investor who is buying the bonds for savings purposes will get all he asks for.

Dr. J. V. Fisher, financial adviser to the cabinet, said yesterday that for savings purposes there would be no allotment—the subscriptions would be filled in full.

He said machinery was available to open the end of the $10,000,000 bond issue so the government could increase the size of the issue.

As the bonds are being issued for the PGE to refund other short-term commitments, Dr. Fisher said that an extra $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 worth of bonds would not cause any difficulty.

Nor would he feel the government was embarrassed if subscriptions (of a savings type) rose to $15,000,000.

Above that figure, he believed, the cabinet would want to have another look at the open-endedness of the issue.

"So long as the federal government short term treasury bills are paying over five per cent, our new bonds are not likely to attract funds from the big corporations," said Dr. Fisher.

He estimated that about 95 per cent of the subscriptions would be for small savings accounts and added that Mr. Bennett was anxious that all B.C. investors of this type should be given their full allocation.

MIXED REACTION

The stock market took the line yesterday that the second part of the Borden report did nothing to change immediately the prospect of increasing the market for Canadian crude.

Some independent producer stocks drifted lower while the two pipelines—Interprovincial and Trans Mountain—recorded fair gains.

On the political level, Premier Manning of Alberta denounced the Borden recommendations as weak because they did not call for specific government action.

He hoped the federal government would meet the major oil companies to make it clear to them that the onus was now on them to find new markets.

Independent western oil producers, however, endorsed the Borden report even if they were somewhat disappointed it did not advocate an immediate pipeline into Montreal.

C. S. Lee, of Western Decalta, speaking for the independents, said if the market for Canadian crude was increased to 700,000 barrels a day by the end of 1960, through co-operation with the major companies, it would be faster expansion than if the pipeline was built into Montreal.

Alberta is at present producing about 380,000 barrels a day. Under the Borden plan, this would rise to about 580,000 barrels a day by the end of 1960.

He described the 700,000-barrel target as an emphatic threat to the international companies.

Following labor troubles that have shut down about 75 per cent of the U.S. copper production, a U.S. custom smelter Monday increased its price for the metal by three cents from 30 cents to 33 cents a pound.

Mixed Crew Ideal for Moon

Will Sex Cause Problem?

LONDON (UPI)—If two men and one woman were alone on the moon for six months, would it mean togetherness or trouble?

This is one of the problems facing science in its aim to explore space, planets and the beyond.

BEST CREW

Dr. T. C. Helvey, a U.S. biophysicist attending the 10th International Astronautical Association Congress, admitted that sex in space was a subject he hoped to learn something about in perfecting a base on the moon.

"We are convinced that the smallest and best crew for the first attempt to land on the moon say anytime after 1962—would be two men and one woman, all scientists," Helvey said.

SIX-MONTH STAY

"The two men and one woman we pick will have to agree to remain in the base, cut off from the world, for six months."

Dr. Helvey is a member of staff of Radiation Corp. of Orlando, Fla., which disclosed a year ago, that it is developing a moon base. After its announcement, the company received 110 letters from volunteers.

EMOTIONAL HAZARD

But he said the test base is only 18 feet in diameter and nine feet high, so the question immediately rose as to the problems of an emotional hazard of putting two men and only one woman so close for so long.

Dr. Helvey, to whom the thought apparently had occurred, smiled.

"At the moment scientists feel that for at least the first two months in space or space travel, there will be so much to learn and so much to do that sex really will not be a problem after all.

"After six months . . . well, that is one of the things we have to learn."

Liberal Province Votes Today

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—The voters of Prince Edward Island decide today whether the province remains one of the last two bastions of Liberalism in Canada. About 50,000 people are eligible to vote between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. AST (5 a.m. and 1 p.m. MDT).

Except for Newfoundland, Canada's smallest province is the only other where the Liberals are in power.

The opposition Progressive Conservative Party, inspired by the federal Conservative sweep of Canada last year, says it's time that the island was in line politically with Ottawa.

Prospect Blaze Harmless

A 30-acre fire which started Thursday north of Prospect Lake is no longer considered dangerous, forest ranger Ron Jones said last night.

Spot fires were still burning there yesterday. Twenty men will patrol the area today and 15 men will patrol it tonight.

Five men are still patrolling the 35 acres west of Glen Lake which caught fire more than a week ago, but this fire also has nearly burned out.

Forestry department suppression crews were sent out to two minor fires on Sunday. A 10-man crew assisted by Central Saanich volunteer fire department brought a quarter-acre bush fire under control within an hour at the Indian reserve there. They also stood by while electricians repaired a line damaged by a broken tree at First Lagoon off Metchosin Road on Sunday.

Fire hazard on lower Vancouver Island was "average" yesterday, said Mr. Jones. Forestry officials were hoping for heavy rains which would saturate ground slash and grass.

Cup Changes Hands

Neale Fraser (left), Australia's new tennis hero, and Barry MacKay of the United States team receive congratulations from Howard Beale, Australian ambassador to the United States, as they gather around the Davis Cup, top trophy in amateur tennis, at Forest Hills, N.Y. Fraser's singles victory over MacKay yesterday brought cup back to Australia for eighth time in 10 years. The Aussies won the series, 3-2.—(AP Photofax.)

Speaking Briefly

Neale Comes Through As Aussies Take Cup

Neale Fraser, taking advantage of a rash of doublefaults by a wild and reckless Barry MacKay, brought the Davis Cup back to Australia yesterday, winning the final singles match to give the Aussies a 3-2 decision in the best-of-five battle for the greatest trophy in amateur tennis.

Picking up where the battle was halted by darkness Sunday at one set each, the 25-year-old Melbourne southpaw won 8-6, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4 from MacKay. MacKay, playing on his 24th birthday, served five doublefaults to drop his service twice in the third set. He doublefaulted again—his 14th—to lose his service and the match in the 10th game of the fourth set.

NEAR MONOPOLY

As Aussie team captain Harry Hopman put it, "this is Neale Fraser's cup." Fraser started his club on the way to their eighth title in 10 years by upsetting Alex Olmedo in singles. Then he teamed with Roy Emerson to beat Olmedo and Earl Buchholz, Jr., in Saturday's doubles to give Australia a 2-1 lead.

On Sunday, the moody Olmedo tied the series by beating Rod Laver, 9-7, 4-6, 10-8, 12-10 in a gruelling three-hour and 25-minute struggle. The 66 games comprised the longest four-set match and the third longest bout ever in challenge round history.

But it was only a delaying action. Fraser, whose parents travelled 10,000 miles to sit in on the finish, whipped MacKay to wrap up the series.

Imports Selected By Eastern Clubs

Toronto Argonauts, picked by many as the club to be reckoned with in the Big Four Football Union this season, passed over two of their top stars of last season in naming their 12 imports yesterday.

Coach Hamp Poole had to skip halfback Dave Mann, the Negro speedster who faces a possession-of-narcotics charge, and end Pete O'Garro, who broke his leg early in the season and is not expected to see any more action this year.

Named to the list were quarterback Ronnie Knox, fullback Dick Shatto, halfbacks Corky Tharp, Bob Dehlinger and Jim Rountree, ends Ross Coyle and Ron Stover, tackle Bobby Jack Oliver, guards Cleve Webster and Tim Horton, and defensive end Dick Foutts.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Montreal Alouettes also picked their 12 imports yesterday.

PICK DUBLINSKI

Ti-Cats picked quarterbacks Bernie Faloney and ex-Toronto Argonaut Tom Dublinski, centre Jim Taylor, guards Ernie Danjean and Dave Suminski, tackles John Barrow and Angelo Mosca, ends Paul Dekker and Ed Ball, and halfbacks Duane Woods, Ralph Goldston and Billy Bell.

Choice of the Montreal coaching staff were centre Tom Hugo, guard Jackie Simpson, tackles Billy Shipp and Bill Hudson, ends Red O'Quinn, Hal Patterson and Gene Siminski, quarterback Sam Etcheverry, and backs Veryl Switzer, Jim Colclough, Joel Wells and Bill Glosson. On the reserve list are quarterback Wes Giddeon and guard George Deiderich.

New Trap Champion Failed to Win Event

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — Ed Wladichuk, 30-year-old electronic parts dealer from Ancaster, Ont., won Canada's top prize in the Grand American trapshoot Saturday.

Wladichuk had tied with three others from Canada for the Sports Afield Trophy which goes annually to the Dominion shooter who is high in the clay target classic.

In a shootoff Saturday, Wladichuk broke 23 from 24 yards. Harry A. Willsie of Montreal and Leon Hartman of Kitchener, Ont., cracked 22, and L. K. Clegg of Montreal broke 21.

The big Canadian contingent headed home after firing in the national doubles championship and the Vandalia handicap.

R. J. Tobin of St. Lambert, Que., broke 98 from 21 yards to win the professional end of the closing event, the Vandalia Handicap.

John Kurth of Columbus, Wis., who didn't win an event during the marathon meet, wound up as its No. 1 shooter. He won the over-all championship, based on shooting at 600 targets at 16 yards, 300 in handicaps and 100 in doubles, with a combined score of 972 of 1,000.

Vic Reinders of Waukesha, Wis., a chemistry professor at the University of Wisconsin, won the national doubles with 99 of 100 and grabbed the all-around title with 390 of 400.

Lions Boot Way to 8-7 Verdict For Record Crowd of 34,273

VANCOUVER — B.C. Lions gained a share of second place in the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union standings here Monday night when they edged out Edmonton Eskimos, 8-7, in a spectacular game played before a record Canadian crowd of 34,273 fans which jammed every inch of Empire Stadium.

It was the second time this season that the Lions have beaten the Edmonton club, which has allowed only one point in its other games against Saskatchewan and Winnipeg.

Result left the Lions with three wins in five games and Eskimos with a 2-2 showing for their first four games. Lions are tied for the runner-up spot with defending-champion Winnipeg Blue Bombers, two points behind the red-hot Calgary Stampeders.

The huge crowd, with thousands lured by a $10,000 giveaway to a lucky fan as the Lions celebrated getting their millionth fan, saw one of the most exciting games ever played here.

OTHER BOOTS

It was a rugged affair with both clubs guilty of bad execution and the Lions, particularly, guilty of some questionable strategy which gave the Eskimos at least three chances to win the game in the last quarter.

There were five fumbles and three pass interceptions, not an unusually large number, but each one turned the tide at the time. Eskimos booted two chances late in the final quarter to get game-winning field goals, both times after the Lions had given them an opportunity they shouldn't have had.

Vic Kristopaitis, the placekicking guard obtained just before the season started from Toronto Argonauts, did all of the scoring for his Lions although he missed three times in five field-goal attempts.

His string of six straight field goals was broken early when he was wide after a fumble by Rollie Miles gave the Lions a chance. But the kick went for a point and the Lions had a 1-0 lead.

Eskimos, quarterbacked all the way by Don Getty in the absence of the injured Jackie Parker, marched 60 yards for the game's only touchdown in the second quarter. The missed convert turned out to be a big play.

Lions marched right back, were stopped 11 yards out and again Kristopaitis settled for one point with a field goal try. Eskimos got their seventh point a few minutes later when Tommy Joe Coffey, who was 0 for 3 in the field-goal department, missed the uprights from 20 yards and Sonny Homer was rouged for a point.

Kristepaitis then brought the score to 7-5 just before the half when he clicked with a 24-yard field goal. He clicked again early in the third quarter and the Lions went ahead, to stay, 8-7.

But they were lucky. Norm Fieldgate and Kristopaitis made clutch interceptions in the fourth quarter to stop the Eskimos and Johnny Bright kicked in with a fumble which pulled the Lions out of another hole.

Lions, however, appeared to want to make it as interesting as possible for their fans. They threw passes when they should have been killing time with running plays and an interception gave Edmonton a chance. Another time, they tried a pass with three yards to go on third down near midfield and lost the ball.

And, earlier in the game, quarterback Randy Duncan appeared to go against coach Wayne Robinson's wishes for a field-goal try deep in Edmonton territory, lost the gamble when By Bailey, now a Canadian citizen and playing his first game of the season, didn't make it.

Eskimos just couldn't get that tying point. One of their kicks hit an upright and bounced back on the playing field. On another occasion Don Vassos got the ball from behind the goal line with some fast leg work.

Game statistics were as close as the score. Lions had 19 first downs, Eskimos 20. Both clubs gained 140 yards in the air with nine completions and the Eskimos had a 214-210 edge in ground yardage.

Lefthander Whiffs 18 As Dodgers Close In

A record-shattering performance by strikeout artist Sandy Koufax and a three-run homer by Wally Moon carried Los Angeles Dodgers to a 5-2 victory over San Francisco Giants last night and left them only one game back of the National League leaders.

A crowd of 82,794 at Los Angeles watched as Moon won the game for the Dodgers with his homer with one out in the bottom of the ninth inning. But most of the glory went to Koufax.

The tall and dark lefthander tied Bob Feller's modern day major league strikeout record by fanning 18, and broke the National League record of 17 set 26 years ago by Dizzy Dean of St. Louis Cardinals. He had come within one strikeout of the mark June 16, when he fanned 16 against Philadelphia.

Koufax, now 8-4 for the season, also broke the major league record for strikeouts in two consecutive games. He struck-out 13 his last time out against Philadelphia and his total of 31 is three better than the record set by Feller in 1938.

HAD CONTROL

Frequently troubled by wildness, Koufax was masterful last night. He walked only two, and even helped out with a single in the winning ninth-inning rally.

With one out, Koufax lined a single to left. Jim Gilliam also singled, and starter Jack Sanford was replaced by Al Worthington. Moon slashed a 1-1 pitch over the left field screen. Willie McCovey also homered for the Giants, his eighth of the season.

In last night's only American League game, Pete Runnels hit a home run with two out in the 10th inning to give Boston Red Sox a 4-3 decision over Washington Senators. New York Yankees were rained out at Baltimore.

SOX ON GO

Sunday's major league action was highlighted by the performance of the amazing Chicago White Sox.

With a crowd of 66,586 looking on at Cleveland, the White Sox virtually wrapped up the American League pennant by taking a doubleheader, 6-3 and 9-4, to sweep their four-game "showdown series" with the second-place Indians. The White Sox are now 5½ games out in front, six on the losing side.

Barry Latman was credited with his eighth victory in the night game and Early Wynn with his 17th in the opener although neither was around at the finish.

The speed-happy Sox jumped into a 5-0 lead in the second inning of the second game, scoring two runs on a long sacrifice fly by Latman. Latman gave up homers to Rocky Colavito, his 39th, and Woody Held, his 26th and second of the day.

FACE WINS AGAIN

The magic touch of Elroy Face worked for Pittsburgh Pirates for the 17th consecutive time this season as the Pirates moved within four games of first place in the National League.

While the Giants were losing 7-6 to the Dodgers and Milwaukee was being beaten, 6-2, by Chicago Cubs, the Pirates swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia, 2-1 and 7-6, for their 17th and 18th victories in 23 games.

Face's amazing string of 21 straight wins as a relief pitcher appeared ended in the second game when Ed Bouchee homered to give the Phillies a 6-5 lead. But Dick Stuart, who had homered in the ninth to give the Pirates the tie, doubled in two runs in the 10th to give Face the win after Don Hoak singled and Bill Virdon walked.

Face's 17 straight victories mark the second longest winning streak in the modern history of the game. Record for the majors for one year is 19, set by Rube Marquard of the 1912 Giants.

Sparked by the performance of quarterback Joe Kapp, the Stamps continued in first place with four wins in five games. The loss was the fifth for the cellar-dwelling riders in as many games.

Kapp continued his fine play, passing for three touchdowns and scoring one himself on a one-yard plunge.

Other Calgary scorers were Arkansas halfback Don Stone with two touchdowns and Ernie Warlick with one. Doug Brown added four converts.

Saskatchewan's touchdown was scored by halfback John Harris, an import from Santa Monica who played in place of injured end Menan (Tex) Schriewer. Reg. Whitehouse wrapped up rider scoring with a convert and a field goal.

Kapp got strong support along the half line from backs Gene Filipski, Earl Lunsford and Stone. George Tait, a Canadian purchased from the Riders this year, also sparked for the Stamps, catching three passes from his flanker position.

Marg Iwasaki Reaches Final As Pan-Am Marks Shattered

CHICAGO—Marg Iwasaki of Vancouver was one of seven women to break the Pan American Games 200-metre freestyle mark here yesterday as Canadians grabbed their share of glory in a day of record-breaking.

Wholesale record-breaking started from the first event and continued through the heats of the men's 100-metre freestyle, men's 200-metre breaststroke and women's 200-metre freestyle. Six of the seven Canadians in these events moved up to the finals including Miss Iwasaki and Sara Barber of Brantford, Ont., who both broke the record of 2.32.4 in the 200-metre freestyle. Susan Sangster of Vancouver also qualified in this event, placing fourth.

Fourth heat of the men's 100-yard freestyle was won by Cameron Grout of Montreal in 58.1 seconds. Americans beat the old record of 57.4 in each of the other heats, with Jeff Farrell of Wichita pushing the time down to 56.5 seconds.

Other Canadians to qualify were Steve Rabinovitch in the men's 200-metres heat, and Tom Verth of Toronto, second in one heat of the men's 100-yard freestyle.

In tennis, Canada scored a major upset when former Canadian champion Bob Bedard defeated second-seeded Mario Llamas of Mexico 6-2, 8-10, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4 in a four-hour duel.

Bedard, 27-year-old French teacher from Sherbrooke, Que., overcame leg cramps and played Llamas into the ground in their quarter-final match. Bedard was seeded only No. 8 in the tournament.

Canadians also did well in track events:

In the heats of the women's 200 metres, Lucianda Williams of the United States was clocked in 24.1 seconds, breaking the games record of 25.3 set in 1951 by Jean Patton of the U.S.

Heather Campbell of Vancouver ran second to Miss Williams to qualify in 26.4. The finals will be run tonight.

Sally McCallum of Vancouver placed second in another heat won by Isabelle Daniels of the U.S. Miss Daniels' time was 24.7 compared with Miss McCallum's 25.5.

Canadians won both heats of the men's 1,500-metre semi-finals. Randy Mason, Toronto, won his heat in 3.58.7, some five seconds behind the Pan-American record. The other Canadian winner was David Drybrough, Winnipeg, in 3.59.6. The 1,500-metre finals will be held Wednesday.

PAT QUALIFIES

Pat Power of Edmonton smashed a Pan-American record by covering the women's 80-metre hurdles in 11.5 seconds, placing second behind Barbara Mueller of the U.S., whose time was 11.4 compared with the old mark of 11.7 set by Eliana Gaete Lazo of Chile in 1955.

On Sunday, Calgary's Doug Kyle became the first native-born Canadian in nine years to win two track medals by placing third in the 5,000 metres just two days after he placed second in the 10,000 metres.

Boathouse, Lodge Have New Owners

Sale of the Anchorage Boathouse and Brenta Lodge, reported in The Daily Colonist several weeks ago, was officially confirmed yesterday when the new owners arrived to take over operation of the two well-known Brentwood businesses.

New owners, who take over today, are W. J. "John" Cockrill and Roy Bullough, both formerly of Medicine Hat.

Formerly in the tire and garage business in Medicine Hat and a former city alderman, Cockrill will manage the Anchorage Boathouse, which has been operated for the past several years by Capt. Eric Barnes.

Bullough, former Medicine Hat manager of an investment firm, will manage Brenta Lodge, which will now be known as Brenta Lodge & Motel Ltd.

The new owners said that Brenta Lodge will be open for business for 12 months a year to complement service offered at the Anchorage Boathouse.

Cougars Get Okay From Pete Wright

Opposing forwards, manager-coach Hal Laycoe opines, are likely to be a bit cautious when approaching the Victoria Cougars defence this coming season.

Laycoe announced last night that Pete Wright, a burly veteran who will reach his 33rd birthday in January, has agreed to terms by letter and will be on hand when the Cougars open their training camp on Sept. 19.

Wright was, in Laycoe's opinion, the best defenceman in the Western Hockey League when he played for Seattle in the 1956-57 season. He retired for one season but returned to hockey last year with New Westminster Royals. But it was a season marred with injuries for Wright, who was never able to get in best playing condition. He saw action in 52 games, drew assists on 19 goals, and spent 90 minutes in the penalty box.

"It will be different this season, says Laycoe, who regards Wright highly. Wright will get a "small bonus" if he reports to camp at 195 pounds or less. He says he is already under 200 pounds.

"He's a rugged type," Laycoe said. "With Wright and Jack Bionda out, there are not many forwards going to be cruising around in our territory with their heads down."

TO TRY ROOKIE

Laycoe also disclosed last night that Gordon Tansley, a big, 21-year-old defenceman who played with Kamloops in the Okanagan Hockey League last season, will attend the Cougar training camp.

"He comes highly recommended by Billy Hryciuk (Kamloops coach) and I believe he has a good chance of making the club." Laycoe stated. "We may keep a rookie defenceman as our 15th player and everything I have heard about him makes me certain Tansley can be that fellow."

Cricket Cup Lost to City

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Sunday defeated Victoria 67 runs to 60 to win the Jack Kyle Cup for the first time in three years in the annual cricket match between the two cities for boys under 16.

Vancouver got off to a very poor start, losing four wickets for six runs, but was pulled together by Bruce Nobel, who scored 29, and Ward McMahon, who scored 24.

Victoria bowler Nicky Venes took four wickets for 18 runs and teammate Albert Goward took five for 24. Venes also led the Victoria batting with 12 runs.

Softball Tourney Won by Ladysmith

It hardly came as a surprise, but Ladysmith Merchants defeated Carlings, 8-2, Sunday at Central Park to cap an undefeated drive through the double-elimination B.C. senior "B" semi-final softball tournament.

Merchants won four games during the tournament to advance to the B.C. final at Trail next weekend. Two of these wins were thrilling extra-inning efforts, a 3-2, 11-inning triumph over Victoria Maycocks and a 3-2, 12-inning decision over Carlings.

Merchants' reliable pitching staff proved the difference. Jim Lamont won two games, including Sunday's final, and Ken Berry and Ron Aitken won the others. All went the distance.

Two of the Merchants' wins came Sunday and both were against Vancouver. The teams resumed a 10-inning 2-2 tie from the previous night in Sunday's first game and Ladysmith, although outhit 10-6, won it in the bottom of the 12th.

A semi-final game between Victoria and Vancouver had been billed as one of the three-day tourney's best games. It turned out quite the contrary as Vancouver ran wild for 10 runs in the first inning and a whopping 21-0 win.

City Team Beaten In Western Semis

VANCOUVER — D & D Tire of Victoria, surprise champions of Vancouver Island senior "A" softball, were defeated twice here Sunday by Vancouver Fred Ashers, who won the best-of-five Western Canada semi-final series.

Ashers' win assured Vancouver of a Western Canada title. They now meet Vancouver Carlings in a best-of-seven series with the winner advancing to the world tournament at Clearwater, Fla., Sept. 21-28.

ONE-MAN SHOW

If Ashers' series win could be attributed to one player it would go to windmill pitcher Ken Grunerud. Grunerud, considered one of Canada's top pitchers, won all three games with a pair of six hit efforts and an eight-hitter.

Sunday scores were 6-2 and 10-2 as Ashers pounded out 20 hits in the two games to back Grunerud's fine pitching.

Only first baseman Charlie Boyd had any success against Grunerud in the Sunday games Boyd had three hits in four tries in the second game.

Vic Frieheit was the top Vancouver batter with three for four in the opening game and a two-run homer in the second.

Dennis Beaulac was the loser in the first game and Frank Bell received the setback in the second.

King Fisherman Contest

South Island Fishing Better

South Vancouver Island fishing picked up again over the weekend after slowing a bit during the week.

Entries in the Daily Colonist King Fisherman Contest and reports coming in yesterday told of improved fishing between Ten Mile Point and Otter Point. Anglers were also doing better in Saanich Inlet and Cowichan Bay was steady with good-sized springs being caught in fair numbers every day.

There was also improved fishing off the Victoria waterfront.

Between Victoria and Sooke, humpback salmon were the main offering but a few more coho are around and enough big springs to give every angler hopes. Sooke was perhaps the hottest spot according to reports but there was good weekend action off Pedder Bay and off Victoria, particularly between Brotchie Ledge and Macaulay Point.

Nahmint Bay Tyee Weighs 63 Pounds

PORT ALBERNI—Biggest tyee caught in Vancouver Island waters this year was taken in Nahmint Bay Sunday morning by Ed Startup, 810-14th Avenue North.

Startup, who has been fishing for the big salmon for 11 years, will win a diamond button from the Port Alberni Tyee Club as well as the weekly club trophy.

He caught his fish on a Lucky Louie plug and it took him 90 minutes before he could bring the big fish to gaff. The fish was 46 inches long and 14 inches in depth.

Second place in the PATC weekly competition was taken by A. Morran, who caught a 42½-pounder.

Altogether, 80 fish were weighed in at the Port Boathouse here and Nahmint Lodge in Nahmint Bay as tyee fishing in the Alberni Canal reached its peak for the year over the weekend.

One of the best catches was made by junior Brian Wagstaff, who boated 36½ and 31½-pound tyees and a 25-pound spring. Eight-year-old Lon Karsholt weighed in with a 32½-pounder.

Biggest fish caught by a non-member of the PATC was the 46½-pounder caught by Ed Lins.

INTERNATIONAL CO-OPERATION
means wise use of fishery resources

Canada has been a pioneer in the establishment of international commissions, the aims of which are to conserve and develop stocks of fish, sustaining their productive level whenever this is threatened by natural and human causes.

This country is a party to three bilateral fishery agreements with our neighbor to the south, and is also a member of four international conventions which include other countries in addition to the United States.

Fish populations renew themselves if given the chance. The purpose of international co-operation is to make sure that they are given this chance . . . through practical programmes of scientific research and by common sense fisheries regulations.

Saanich Winner Modest

A 16-year-old Saanich girl who topped 174 other 4-H club members Saturday at the PNE's stock judging contest, yesterday still wasn't too sure how she did it.

"I didn't think for a moment I stood a chance against people whose parents own some of the best farms in the province," said Karen Cronk, 4316 Blenkinsop Road.

"I just don't know how it happened."

Karen, a member of Sooke-Sidney-Saanich 4-H Beef Club won the Pym trophy, top PNE individual award for young farm people of the province. With teammates Robert Allen of Royal Oak and Albert Hull of Langford, Karen secured her club second place in the team judging.

Farewell Only Temporary

Famed Show in Vancouver

'Fair Lady' Fabulous

By BERT BINNY

VANCOUVER—The production of the world-famous "My Fair Lady" which opened at the Queen Elizabeth Theatre in Vancouver last night is a fabulous presentation.

Perhaps one of its greatest assets lies in the fact that, colorful musical comedy though it is, it nevertheless retains all the deep sensitivity and appeal of the play on which it is founded.

The choreographies of Hanya Holm are brilliant throughout and the use of such effects as revolving stages and broken levels is a revelation in inspired stagecraft.

There are no weak parts. Possibly there are one or two rough spots in the continuity, but these are certainly not of a permanent nature. Diane Todd makes a perfect Eliza and Michael Evans a thoroughly outstanding Professor Higgins. Charles Victor as Doolittle leaves nothing to be desired and keeps his audience always in gales of laughter.

But a special plaudit must go to Reid Shelton for his wonderful performance in which he gives so much vitality and zest to Freddy.

There was not a full house for opening night. The show runs two weeks and, if it gets what it undoubtedly deserves, there should be full houses the rest of the way.

Air Officer Promoted

Promotion of Wing Commander William M. Mills, 44, of Victoria, was announced yesterday by air force headquarters. He will be staff officer accounts and finance, No. 1 air division, Metz, France.

Quaint Victoria Cottage To Be TV Gunman's Home

As Victorians watch a top TV gunslinger trigger his way through a passel of cow-country cads this winter the man they are watching will be happily ensconced right in their midst . . . living in, of all things, a thatched English cottage.

Texas Ranger Clay Morgan, in real life Harry Lauter, left Victoria yesterday after being so taken with the city he reserved a Tudor cottage for himself and his family from mid-December to mid-January.

"We were going to go to the mountains in California for Christmas and New Year's, but now we're not," he said yesterday with the authoritative air of a man whose blazing six-guns rule the Lone Star State for 30 minutes every week.

"We're coming back to Victoria and we're just going to live quietly in the little cottage we have had for the past four days."

Lauter, who came here with his actress wife, Barbara Ayres, and actress-to-be daughter, Brooke, 10, has been on the stage, in the movies or on television all his life.

"They had 40,000 cowboys in Hollywood and they had to make another one out of me . . . a New Yorker," he joked.

Harry is something of a legend in the world of make-believe because he insists on doing all his own riding and fighting sequences.

"Screen fighting is quite an art and it is really best done by actors and not boxers . . . I know."

Woman's Jaw Goes Far Back

HONG KONG (Reuters)—A well-preserved lower jaw dating back some 500,000 years has been found at Chowkowtien, about 30 miles from Peking, the New China news agency reported Monday. The jaw is believed to be that of "an old female."

New aircraft and veteran personnel were on show at Victoria International Airport Sunday and yesterday when the newly-formed Victoria Flying Service Ltd. held open house.

The company will employ six Cessna aircraft for charter work and rental. It will have a flying school and repair shop.

CESSNA AGENT

Demonstration flights were given in various models of Cessna aircraft at the open house. The company is agent for Cessna here.

Veteran bush pilot W. B. Sylvester, founder of B.C. Airlines, has come out of retirement to head the company.

AROUND WORLD

"We started B.C. Airlines as a flying school in 1945," he said. "Pilots that we trained there are flying for airlines all over the world. Victoria Flying Services will be furthering that business with its flying school."

Other well-known fliers associated with the company are Bill Cove, charter pilot, Gordon Jeune, instructor and chief pilot.

Joseph Howroyd is co-partner with Mr. Sylvester.

Watchers Replace Pickets

VANCOUVER (CP) — An "observer" picket line went up around a Vancouver car parts dealer Monday after a B.C. Supreme Court injunction Saturday prevented union picketing.

Milton Meldrum, manager of Motor Car Parts and Equipment House Ltd., said more than 15 persons — none of them former employees—were parading outside his firm without placards.

The company dismissed some 25 employees Wednesday after a brief sitdown strike the previous day. The Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employees' Union said the company had dismissed two members of a negotiating committee trying to obtain a first contract with the firm.

Coins Pay Off

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A 1793 U.S. half-cent brought $645 Saturday at an auction by the American Numismatic Association at its 68th annual convention here. Another coin, a 1797 half-dollar, brought $740.

Victoria-Port Angeles Ship Held Up

Strike Stalls Start of Ferry Service

Start of the proposed year-round ferry services between Victoria and Port Angeles will be delayed by a strike of iron workers which has tied up shipyards on the west coast of the United States.

Robert Acheson, president of Black Ball Transportation Inc., Seattle, said yesterday that the strike which began last week has stopped all work on the "95 per cent completed" ferry Coho.

It had been hoped to get the ferry into operation on or shortly after Oct. 1. Work was proceeding about six weeks ahead of schedule when it was halted by the strike. The builders have until Nov. 14 to complete the contract.

Mr. Acheson said until the strike was settled the length of the delay could not be determined.

The 341-foot ferry, big enough to carry 1,000 passengers and 125 cars, will make one round trip daily during the winter months. Service will be stepped up as required.

During the summer tourist season the Coho will fill a gap left by withdrawal of the CPR Victoria-Port Angeles ferry. This year, despite four round trips daily by Washington State Ferries Mv Kalakala, tourists complained that it was necessary to line up for several hours to obtain car space for Port Angeles.

Tire Blast Victim 'Satisfactory'

A Chemainus man injured Friday in a tire explosion on the Trans-Canada Highway, and brought to Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday, was reported yesterday in "satisfactory" condition.

N. W. Hollett was prying a steel rim from a grader wheel when the tube exploded, and he was struck in the face by the rim.

Saturday Night Riot

Gang Uprising Causes Concern

Summons Issued In Tire Slashing

Concern over an apparent increase in juvenile gang troubles which erupted in Saturday night's riot at the Midwest Shows by the Curling Rink, was indicated yesterday by civic and municipal spokesmen.

"Concerning the trouble at the fair," said Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt, "I know only what I've read in the papers.

"There seems to be a pattern developing in behavior of this type of youth. Only in recent years have these hoodlums acted in this way.

"The trouble apparently starts in the home—but then some of these poor young devils have no real home, or proper upbringing. Unfortunately, some who have homes still lack the upbringing.

"It seems to me that more authority, and more backing, should be given the schools and teachers in matters of discipline. I know my own parents never disputed a properly-administered strap at school."

Mayor Percy Scurrah and police commissioner William Hamilton had no comment, pending a more complete report from city police on Saturday night's affray, during which a Gypsy tent which also contained a ring-toss game was destroyed by flames started by a "bomb."

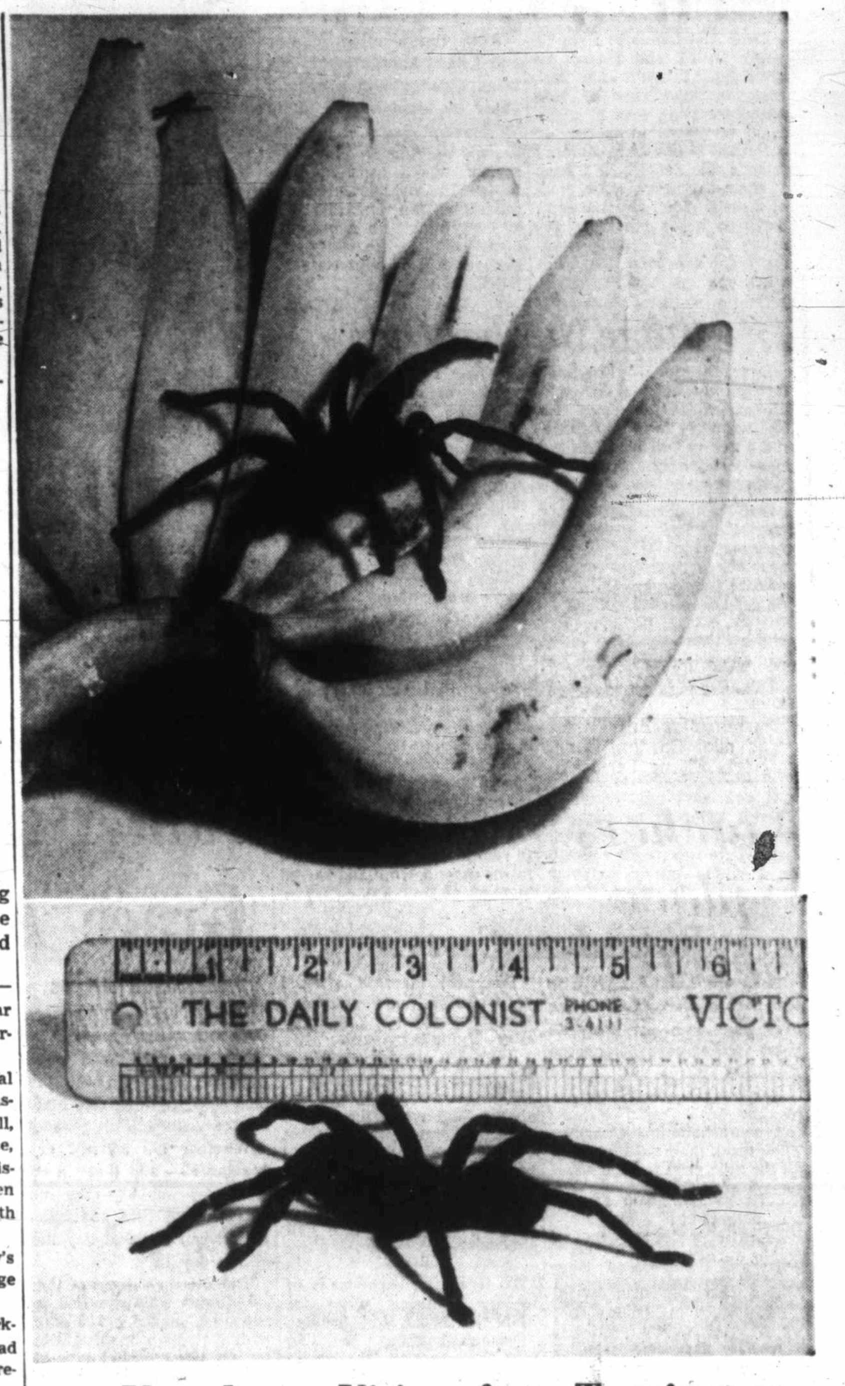
City police, still making an intensive investigation of the affray, yesterday issued a summons to a city youth in connection with slashing of car tires in the region of the carnival.

Trouble at the carnival started Friday night, in a dispute between Jesse Campbell, operator of the ring-toss game, and a young Victorian. The dispute grew into a fight between Campbell and the youth, with Campbell the victor.

It is believed Saturday's "riot" was staged in revenge by a gang of city youths.

Chief Constable John Blackstock of Victoria said he had had no complaints whatever regarding operation of the games or behavior of members of the carnival company.

Of Hugh Davis, manager of the carnival, the chief said he was a "square shooter who did his level best to run a good show. But he can't be everywhere at once."



Unwelcome Visitor from Tropics

Unwelcome visitor to A. P. Slade and Company's Victoria store was this six-inch tarantula from South America. The huge spider arrived in a load of bananas but was chilled and slow moving when found. Yesterday, in the firm's business office, the creature warmed up and was reluctant to return to a glass jar after the photograph. It will be sent to the provincial museum.—(Colonist photo.)

For Good Work

Smile Draws $20

A Colonist account of a camping trip bringing happy grins to the face of an emotionally disturbed boy who had never been known to smile before has had a heart-warming result.

A reader, touched by "this heavenly work," sent a donation of $20 through the Colonist to Kenneth Shore, treatment director of Sevenoaks school, to help with the work.

Mr. Shore, just back from a second camping trip with eight emotionally disturbed boys of the school (sponsored by the Victoria Family and Children's Service) received the donation with gratitude, because, he said, the trips were expensive — but worth every penny.

The boys, from nine to 12 years old, were taken camping at a secluded, undeveloped provincial park. Through the happy relationships on the trips, Mr. Shore said, all the boys were aided in a way impossible in ordinary surroundings.

Grown from Tiny Seed

This may not be the largest vegetable marrow ever grown, but it ranks up there with the giants. Veteran gardener William John Heibert, 1255 Rudlin, holds 30-pound specimen which grew from seed produced on his farm two years ago. Marrow is 26 inches long and 36 inches around.—(Colonist photo.)

Emergency Number Not '999'

An emergency telephone number will be established soon in the legislative buildings. But it won't be "999."

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant said Friday an emergency number of the 999 type was planned for the buildings. But he added yesterday that it couldn't be 999, because dialing "9" on the internal system at the buildings would automatically give the caller an outside line.

"There has been no specific number set up yet," Mr. Chant said. "But we are working on arrangements, and a number will be brought out—a number easy to remember."

Drowned Woman Identified

A Victoria woman found drowned Saturday between Savary and Cortes Islands in Georgia Strait was identified last night as Miss Annie Balck, 43, who had been employed for eight years as a cook for the family of Thomas A. Fee, 2031 Runnymede.

Miss Balck, who came here from Finland and who just this summer had taken out her Canadian citizenship papers, was holidaying with the Fees on Savary Island and had gone out fishing alone in a small dinghy.

It is not known what happened to her.

The body was found by the skipper of a commercial fishing boat and was taken to Campbell River, where an autopsy was performed. Coroner Dr. N. B. Hall ruled that death was caused by accidental drowning.

August Cloudier, Cooler

The sun shone brightly yesterday afternoon to wind up the month of August which was cloudier, drier and cooler than usual for Victoria.

The mean maximum temperature dropped some 2 degrees for the month to 65.9. Minimum temperatures remained at a shade over 52 degrees.

Rainfall for the month was .36 inches, about half the average for this time of year.

Sunshine totalled 280.6 hours compared with 330.8 hours for last August.

Girl Breaks Leg

Several Treated After Crashes

Several persons were treated at hospital yesterday for injuries received in traffic accidents in the Greater Victoria area.

Seven-year-old Marilyn Reinstin, 1345 Mt. Douglas Crossroad, suffered a broken leg when she was pinned by a shifting load of building blocks in the back of a car driven by Gary Reinstin, which had to stop suddenly for another car at Douglas and Caledonia at 10.50 a.m.

The girl was reported in satisfactory condition last night at St. Joseph's Hospital.

William Bunnett, 1028 Hillside, passenger, suffered abrasions to the arm when a car driven by a Victoria teenager rolled onto its side after striking a guywire of a B.C. Electric pole at Washington and Gorge Road at 3.40 p.m. He was later said to be in satisfactory condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Thomas Black, 15, of 887 Brett, passenger on the crossbar of a bicycle ridden by Allan Watt, 45 Regina, was treated for cuts and bruises to the head at Jubilee Hospital after the bicycle was in collision with a car driven by Richard Jackson, 2630 Quadra. The accident occurred at Fifth and Topaz at 4.25 p.m.

Stolen Boat Found At Port Angeles

A 14-foot boat named Robella, taken from the McKay-Cormack Ltd. wharf sometime Saturday night, has been found at Port Angeles, Wash., where it is in the hands of customs officials. RCMP are questioning a suspect.

Biggest Horse Show Expected at Saanich

The largest show horse entry in the 91-year history of the Saanich fall fair will be on display Sept. 5 to 7 at the grounds of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, Saanichton.

Saturday will be adult western day when more than 50 colorfully clad men and women riders will put their mounts through their paces.

Children will have Sunday to themselves and will split the day into Western and English saddle events. There are a large number of entrants and the contests will take most of the day.

English saddle events will be featured Monday. The program will include bridle path hack and hunter events.

Some 200 top field representatives of the Manhattan Life Insurance Company of New York, many with their wives, descended on Victoria's Empress Hotel yesterday for a four-day agency conference.

Representatives from 41 states of the U.S.A. are attending the conference from as far away as Miami Beach.

The company, one of the oldest in the United States, is celebrating its 109th anniversary at the Victoria meeting.

Special awards for top fieldmen in the organization will be presented by company president Thomas E. Lovejoy Jr.

The conference closes Thursday evening with an informal banquet.

Victoria Drop $200,000

Woods Strike Blamed As Construction Falls

Effects of the seven-week IWA strike are showing in building figures released yesterday by Greater Victoria municipalities.

Victoria, which took the lead in construction from Saanich in July, held its position in August but showed a drop of $200,000 in the total construction value.

ALL LOWER

Saanich showed a drop of only $23,000, Oak Bay dropped $33,000 and Esquimalt dropped $113,000.

Civic officials blamed the sharp drops on a shortage of lumber caused by the strike.

Although it lost to Victoria in total value, Saanich led in house construction—38 houses valued at $414,450, compared to Victoria's nine worth $232,000.

SAANICH AHEAD

And Saanich led in the total value of construction for the first eight months of the year 809 permits valued at $6,666,429, compared to Victoria's 4,484 permits worth $5,903,464.

Biggest drop was in Oak Bay which had a record year in 1958. In August, 1958, Oak Bay approved 41 permits worth a total of $485,635. This year 36 permits were granted, worth only $84,765.

DETAILS LISTED

Details for August:

Victoria, total permits, 605; value, $768,151; house permits, nine, value $232,600. Saanich, total permits, 93; value, $695,250; house permits, 38; value, $414,450. Oak Bay, total permits, 36; value, $84,765; house permits, four; value, $75,000. Esquimalt, total permits, 17; value, $65,500; house permits, four; value, $55,700.

Mayor Still Waits For Subsidy News

Mayor Percy Scurrah is still waiting to hear whether the federal government will pay a $150,000 subsidy to keep CPR ferries running until the provincial government's new ferry service comes into operation.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker has promised Mayor Scurrah a decision this week, but no decision had been announced yesterday, Mr. Scurrah said.

Defence Minister George Pearkes and Public Works Minister Howard Green have both promised their support to the city's request.

Dutch Windmill Model Built in Front Yard

A working model of a Dutch windmill was erected Sunday in the front yard of Mr. and Mrs. Alfons Duyvestyn, 3020 Quadra Street.

Though not full size, the structure is about eight feet high and bears "sails" extending 15 feet into the air.

Builder was Willem Van Kampen, Mrs. Duyvestyn's father, who came from the old country in November to join his immigrant family. The Duyvestyns came to Canada 2½ years ago.

The mill is a replica in detail of the big mills in Holland used to pump water from reclaimed land.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I am 13, going on 14, and I can't do anything. I can't knit, sew, cook, or take care of kids without getting mad at them. I am very poor in sports and a lousy swimmer. All my friends ride horses. If I tried I know I'd make a big fool of myself. I am shy and can't carry on a conversation. Because of this I don't talk much and everyone thinks I'm stuck up.

Also, I'm a rotten dancer and I don't know what to say when I dance with a boy. I never tan even when I sit in the sun for hours. I just get red and peel like an onion. On top of this I can't do anything with my hair. It looks terrible all the time. Because of everything I've mentioned, I am a flop in life. Any suggestions will be appreciated.—INFERIOR.

Stage Number One

Dear Inferior: We all go through two stages during a lifetime—a period when we feel we don't know anything, and a period when we feel we know everything. You are at Stage Number One.

Stop wasting energy tearing yourself down. Instead of moaning about what a poor swimmer you are, get out and practice. How do you think the good swimmers got good? Not by sitting on the sand telling themselves how lousy they are.

You don't need to be a genius to sew or cook. The most accomplished seamstress in the world started by sewing a straight hem. And anyone who can read can cook.

If you can't tan—forget it. There's a lot to be said for cameo-skin. And nobody's hair has to look terrible. Settle on a simple hair-do and take care of it. In short, Toots, the best way to raise your opinion of yourself is to improve on the basic product. You!

Dear Ann: I'm being married in October. We are planning a lovely church wedding. My prospective husband's mother hit on what she thinks is a "darling idea." She thinks it would be novel if they dressed as bride and groom and come down the aisle together.

My folks think this idea is revolting and so do I. If we refuse, we may start off on the wrong foot with the in-laws. Is it worth it?—GINNY.

Dear Ginny: So your fiance's mother thinks it would be "novel"? Simply tell her this is not going to be novelty night, and her idea is not acceptable. You have every right to veto this side-show approach to the most solemn and sacred moment of your life.

Ridiculous Custom

Dear Ann Landers: My wife was born in Europe. She came over here with her folks 15 years ago and has mastered the English language.

Her mother and father are pleasant people but I've never felt comfortable in their home. They speak their native tongue all the time, read foreign newspapers and still go in for old-country customs which seem ridiculous to me.

We've been married eight years and I still dread going over to her folks' house. I know they aren't talking about me, but I feel left out—as if I don't belong. Do you think I should be forced to go where I don't understand one word of what is being said? — OUTSIDER.

Dear Outsider: If after 8 years you can't understand one word of what's being said you aren't trying very hard.

Ask your wife to teach you a few expressions. Start with "How are you?" or "It's a lovely day." Surprise the in-laws the next time you go over. They'll be delighted and you'll be more comfortable in their presence. Learning their language can be fun and it will give your relationship a new dimension.

To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Pearce-Gough

Red, White Gladioli Adorn Bride's Home

A quiet family wedding Saturday united Miss Sylvia Marianne Gough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gough, Dean Road, and Mr. Richard Mott Pearce, son of Victoria's retired dominion astrophysicist, Dr. Joseph A. Pearce, Union Road, and the late Mrs. Pearce.

Coral and white gladioli decorated the home of the bride's parents as Dr. W. G. Wilson spoke the vows uniting the young couple.

TALISMAN ROSES

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Gough chose a beige boucle dress accented with a crescent of talisman roses.

Mrs. J. A. Pearce, step-mother of the groom, chose a grey silk suit for the ceremony and accented her ensemble with a royal blue hat and accessories, with a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Gough wore a Honan silk turquoise dress with white accessories and white carnations.

WEDDING TOAST

Dr. Wilson, who officiated at the christening of the bride, proposed a wedding toast to her at a buffet wedding luncheon for close friends and family of the young couple.

For a trip to Tofino's Long Beach, the new bride wore a matching boucle topcoat over her dress, brown calfskin accessories, a corsage of talisman roses and a hand-crafted set of earrings and pendants of B.C. jade mined in the Fraser Canyon and gift of the groom.

The newlyweds will live in Vancouver.

Shane-Vogel

Wearing a pearl necklace and earrings which were a gift from the groom, Doreen Elizabeth Vogel, walked up the aisle of Centennial United Church, on the arm of her father.

Her lovely bridal gown of Nottingham lace was princess style, entrain, with a scaloped neckline. A pearl and rhinestone tiara surmounted a shoulder-length veil. Dark red, long-stemmed roses formed the bouquet.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vogel, live at 3700 Craigmiller Avene. The groom is Mr. Elven Stanley Shane, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Chuhaywuch, 2510 Garden Street.

Attendants Mrs. Betty Early, matron of honor, Mrs. Elma Bull and Miss Phyllis Hopkins were all dressed alike in blue chiffon over net and carried white carnations. Flower girl was Miss Penny Darnell.

Groomsman was Mr. Richard Darnell with Mr. John Makowasky and Mr. Henry Vogel acting as ushers.

For her going away outfit Mrs. Shane chose a dark blue boucle suit and beige accessories.

They will live in Vancouver, on their return.

Three Generations

Three generations, all christened in Centennial United Church, are baby Sharon Lynn Gooding, her mother, Mrs. W. M. Gooding, and grandmother, Mrs. Frank Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Gooding, formerly of Victoria, now live in Calgary. Mrs. Gooding and her baby are presently staying with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall, 355 Arnot Street. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gooding, 1221 Richardson Street.—(Colonist photo.)

What's Cooking!

Full, Red, Ripe Tomatoes Grace Any Dinner Table

By LOUISE MOORE

Only those with home gardens know the succulent flavor of a garden fresh tomato picked right from the vine. And does anything rate higher on the vegetable hit parade?

Whether it's a fruit or a vegetable — and that's a controversial subject — the red ripe tomato, firm and full of flavor, can serve at any meal of the day.

The sheer goodness of them, sliced and plainly salted and peppered, makes grand eating with just plain bread and butter. Or the gourmet type will sprinkle the thick meaty slices with a little finely minced green onion plus a good French dressing and that way they are superb.

. . . AND SUGAR

Of course, there is the sugar addict who wouldn't eat a tomato with anything else but sugar and THEY may have something too.

When tired of them sliced, use big firm ripe tomatoes for chicken, shrimp or lobster salad for an attractive salad plate. Cottage cheese and seasonings make a tasty filling too.

Another filling consists of diced celery, cucumber, green pepper and minced parsley with the scooped out portion of the tomato. Hold the mixture lightly together with mayonnaise.

Stuff the tomatoes which have been lightly salted and turned upside down to drain, then chilled. Top with a spoonful of mayonnaise and fleck with paprika. Add a sprig of cress to the salad plate and a few black olives.

PLAIN BAKED OR BROILED TOMATOES

Scoop centres of 6 large ripe firm tomatoes. Sprinkle inside with salt and turn upside down to drain. Brown 2 tblsp. finely minced onion along with 4 tblsp. finely minced bacon. Add to 1½ cups soft bread crumbs with salt, pepper, a pinch of basil and ½ cup finely minced celery. Stuff tomatoes, set in pan and bake in moderate oven (350) about ½ hour or until tender. A little grated cheese may be sprinkled over the tops before baking.

Back to School Sept. 8

Another Free Week!

By The Canadian Press

Well, mom—it may be a relief or it may not—but the kids are going back to school.

They'll show some reluctance, of course, but in reality they have never had it so good.

More school bells will clang in the ears of more children, and more and better-paid teachers will put them through their first day's paces than ever before in Canada.

Chances are that the local school board has fewer worries than it had a year ago, a cross-Canada survey by The Canadian Press shows.

It's been a longer holiday than usual. The Labor Day holiday falls on Sept. 7 this year and traditionally the school year opens the following day.

In Ontario, 1,250,000 children —70,000 more than last year —go back to school on Sept. 8. In Newfoundland, where there was an abnormal number of polio cases during the summer, the children stay home until Sept. 14. Roman Catholic schools in Quebec province will also delay opening from Sept. 2 to 14 because of the polio epidemic.

All across Canada increases in school statistics have been noted by the various provincial education departments.

British Columbia, like some other provinces, finds itself short of secondary school teachers. But the survey shows that the situation is not acute in any particular area.

Of the 300,000 children who will attend school in B.C. this term 70 are children of parents of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor branch, who were released from the provincial government dormitory school at New Denver last July.

These children will go to public schools in their home areas for the first time.

'Rystaffel'

Lieut. Edmond Poullet, commanding officer of the Belgian ship Dufour, and officers of the wardroom, are holding a "Rystaffel" Friday evening for officers of HMCS New Glasgow and their wives. A "Rystaffel" is described as a "ceremonial feast composed of 15 dishes." It is not unlike a smorgasbord. The Belgian ship, the former HMCS Winnipeg, will be leaving here towards the end of September.

Garden Notes

1959—Year of the Weed

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

The year 1959 will always remain in my mind as the Year of the Weed. Just what particular set of weather conditions is responsible for the infestation, I don't know, but never have I seen such a prolific growth of chickweed, knotweed, shepherd's purse and all the other green pests. Keeping them under control is a never-ending job, and the moment you turn your back, up pops another crop, apparently born fully grown and ready to start scattering their seeds.

I don't like work any more than the next man and for years I have been experimenting to find methods of controlling the weeds without too much back-breaking labor. I can't say I have made much progress in this field of research, but one thing I have noticed is that the shallower you hoe, the quicker the weeds die.

Deep hoeing is a lot more work and doesn't do as good a job. The weeds are simply transplanted from one place to another and, if a shower or a heavy dew comes along to freshen them up, they have no trouble getting their roots down again.

For hoeing between the rows and between plants in, the perennial flower border, I don't think there is any impliment which does such a good job as a Dutch hoe. While these come in several sizes, I prefer a rather small, light one, easier to control accurately when scuffling off weeds which are growing close to the cultivated plants.

I keep my Dutch hoe razor sharp by dressing the forward-facing blade with a flat file. When I scuffle the soil with this sharp blade, it slices off the weeds just a fraction of an inch below the surface, and creates no disturbance to the shallow-rooting subjects in the garden. The draw hoe, which operates much deeper in the soil, is a menace to corn and raspberries and such plants which maintain their active feeding roots just below the soil surface.

Another thing which appeals to me about the Dutch hoe is the fact that you work backwards down the row, so you never need step on the freshly-hoed ground. With the draw hoe, the work is a strenuous chopping motion and you progress forward, trampling all over your work. This means going back over the ground with the rake, not only to erase the footmarks, but because tramped-on weeds have an uncanny knack of insinuating their roots back into the soil.

It is quite possible to make our usual midsummer dry spell work in our favor in the control of weeds, simply by arranging things so all the water goes on the crops and none on the weeds. I grow most of my row crops in shallow trenches or furrows in the ground and, when watering with the hose, it is easy to channel the water into these ditches, where it goes directly to the roots of my plants, leaving the alleys between the rows as dry as a bone. Weeds seldom get a chance to germinate in this hard-baked ground.

There are some plants, of course, which need to be freshened up occasionally by an overhead watering. Runner beans, for instance, have a habit of dropping their blossoms and failing to "set" unless given frequent shower baths.

The Viewing World

By John Crosby

Bridge in Egghead Time

Walter Schwimmer, who bequeathed the world televised bowling and televised golf, both of them gigantic if totally unexpected successes, now has a game for those sedentary athletes, the bridge players. The program will be on film and it'll be presided over by that champion bridge player of his time, Charles Goren, 59. It will be seen in the only time given over to eggheads, Sunday afternoon, starting Oct. 18 on ABC-TV.

In the half-hour show, three hands will be played in full—one hand summarized—pitting two teams of Life-master champions against each other. These are all actual bridge hands played just as shown (and then filmed later—but played the same way). Goren won't play. He observes from an observation room, commenting on the bidding and play.

The show is not designed to teach beginners—in fact, if you don't play bridge, it won't mean much. It's aimed at bridge nuts who already have lots of bridge under their belts. There's a $1,000 prize for the winning team, $500 consolation for the losers, and bonus prizes for slams bid and made.

How much bridge does Goren play? He shrugged: "I play less bridge than the average housewife. I just don't have time now. I'm too busy writing about it."

Is it altogether a game of skill? "No, the element of luck is very great. What would anyone care about a game where only a handful of experts won? Even where the element of luck is greatly reduced—such as in a tournament where everyone plays the same cards—anyone can win. It just depends on how you play your cards. There's always chance."

* * *

Goren said that writing about bridge was the only way to make any real money at it. "When I was selling my column to the Bible belt papers who were reluctant to take it—feeling cards were an instrument of the Devil—I told them I didn't play for money. But once in a while I get stuck. Aly Khan asked me over for bridge and, of course, it's no fun to him unless the stakes are high. We played for eight cents a point." He didn't say how much he won.

Hollywood Today

By Sheilah Graham

Around the World with Helen Hayes?

NEW YORK (NANA)—But my heart is still in Venice where I learned from Helen Hayes that she would like to tour the world, a la Sir John Gielgud's "Seven Ages of Man" one-man show. Miss Hayes would include readings from Thornton Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth" and Sir James Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows."

Passing through London, I found Venice at the Queen's Theatre in the Sir Michael Redgrave production of "The Aspern Papers," Henry James' strange story of intrigue on the Grand Canale, with my old Hollywood friend, Flora Robson, stealing the honors as the spinster niece.

Also on the London stage, Claude Dauphin, who had a brief spin in Hollywood, will be making his West End debut in the comedy, "From the French."

Ernest Hemingway, who enjoys a good bullfight and a good bullfighter, is writing a book about his long-time friend, Luis Dominguin, who has been gored several times in the ring lately and who may never fight those nasty bulls again.

Ava Gardner, incidentally, was in Bayonne during Dominguin's battering, as was Lauren Bacall. Ava and Luis were a devoted twosome before his marriage.

Capt. Peter Townsend is expected to travel to the alter with his secretary, Marie Jamagne.

* * *

King Baudouin of Belgium is quite interested in Princess "Guki" of Lichtenstein, 24 and very pretty. They ski and dance together.

Found Gladys Robinson at the Cipriani Hotel on the small island in Venice owned by Harry of famed Harry's Bar. Gladys, ex-wife of Edward G., is on a $2,000,000 buying spree of paintings that will equal and better the collection she owned with her former husband. "I have Tintorettos, Bellinis and ultra-contemporary paintings that will be seen at Walter Winchell's Damon Runyon fund show in October," Gladys, now a bright blonde, told me enthusiastically.

Like the rest of us,, Gladys has written her memoirs, titled, "And If I Show." "It's a profound 'Auntie Mame'," she explained, "and Greer Garson is reading it with a view to doing the film."

Winning Contract

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1◇	Pass	1♠	2♡
Pass	Pass	2♠	Pass
2 N.T.	Pass	3 N.T.	All Pass

Opening lead: ♡ 9

South's pass over East's two-heart bid was the correct choice. A free bid at this point would indicate additional values which he did not have.

The subsequent bidding was optimistic. When North rebid two spades. South should have passed again, and settled for a part score. However, the eventual contract gave West a chance to make a brilliant play.

South realized as soon as he saw the dummy that the contract could not be made if East had the ace of spades. However, if West had the spade ace, declarer had a good chance to succeed by ducking the first two heart leads in order to make sure that West would be unable to lead one later. South proceeded with this plan, but when the third heart was led, West made an outstanding play. He discarded the ace of spades! Declarer couldn't make nine tricks without the spade suit, and East's spade jack was a sure entry to cash his established hearts.

If South had known East had a six-card heart suit, and had foreseen West's spectacular discard, he could have made the hand by winning the second heart trick.

TV TALK

Four for Tonight, an NBC special being produced by Robert Saudek Associates, has lined up three of the four stars who will do specialty solos in the hour—Beatrice Lillie, Cyril Ritchard and Tammy Grimes.

The Ford series Hubbel Robinson is producing for NBC has finally acquired a name: Startime — TV's Finest Hour.

CBS has dropped plans to present the operatic version of "The Devil and Daniel Webster" on a winter Playhouse 90, presumably because NBC has a heard start with its plan for a dramatic presentation of the Stephen Vincent Benet story.

Mass Escape Fails

Youths Take Over U.K. Reform School

CARLTON, England (AP)—Eighty shouting teenage boys armed with knives and chisels took over a reform school for 3½ hours Sunday, then stormed out in a mass escape.

By midnight, police patrols searching the surrounding countryside had netted more than 50 of the escapees.

Many of them were handcuffed and put into police cells to cool off for the night. "We don't think its a good thing to take them back to the school," said a police spokesman. "They are in a violent mood and nobody knows what they may do once they get together again."

It was the second breakout within 48 hours. Saturday the boys had marched out of the school and laid their grievances before an American writer living nearby who had befriended them in the past—40-year-old Talcott Williams. He persuaded them to go back.

This time they were in no mood for the American's quiet persuasion.

U.S. Plan for 1975

London to Los Angeles In 40 Minutes by Rocket

LONDON (AP)—A U.S. space scientist Monday disclosed plans to build a space rocket that could hurl passengers 5,500 miles from London to Los Angeles in 40 minutes.

Darrell C. Romick of the Goodyear Aircraft Corporation said company scientists working on the rocket have evolved a three-stage vehicle about 150 feet long consisting of a passenger compartment and two separate boosters. Each of the booster sections will be manned by two or three men as well as the passenger section.

Romick, head of Goodyear's astronautics section, said there would be room for about 25 passengers and that the space liner could be flying by 1975.

The passengers would lie on couch-like chairs in the space liner and in a matter of minutes would be shot 35 miles into space at the speed of 12,000 miles an hour.

This peak altitude would be reached about 400 miles from the takeoff point, Romick said. Then the power in the two rocket boosters would be cut off, the rocket would glide toward its destination and when it had slowed to about 400 mph turbojet engines would bring it down into a normal landing.

His Goal in Big Two Talks

Khrushchev Determined 'To Melt Cold War Ice'

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Premier Khrushchev says the present world situation is "not too bad, rather it is even good."

The Communist party newspaper Pravda Monday printed his speech, which was made Sunday night in the village of Veshenskaya, 600 miles south of Moscow, to a meeting of collective farmers.

GOOD INTENTION

Khrushchev said he is going to the United States next month with "good intentions" and with the desire to contribute to relaxing international tensions.

"We are determined to take such steps as could help to melt the ice in the cold war," he said. "We like to hope that the United States government will be influenced by the same considerations."

MAIN SIGN

Referring to the current international situation, the Soviet leader said to judge by the main sign—the safeguarding of peace in the world—"it is not too bad, rather it is even good."

He said a letter he received from West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in reply to a Khrushchev letter on relations between the two German governments "on first reading produces a favorable impression."

The Adenauer letter, which was printed in Pravda, "is more restrained in tone, and in this respect greatly differs from the previous documents of the government of the Federal German Republic," Khrushchev said.

Adenauer's letter said controlled disarmament of both nuclear and conventional weapons should be the "primary aim of every statesman, no matter where he stands."

Death Toll Now 28 In Quake

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—Thirteen more persons were listed Monday by Sheriff Donald J. Skerritt as missing and probably killed in Montana's earthquakes two weeks ago, bringing the death toll to 28.

Only nine bodies have been recovered.

"We've checked every lead on all these people," an official said. "The evidence indicates they probably were in the slide area. We've found no trace of any of them since."

No attempt will be made to recover the bodies.

Inglorious End

Bullfighter Keeps Promise to Quit —30 Years Late

By MURRAY FROMSON

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—In 1929 Sidney Franklin's mother asked him to give up bullfighting. He agreed.

On Sunday he kept his promise.

He made his farewell appearance as a bullfighter—and it was an inglorious end to three decades as the best-known U.S. matador in the bullrings of Spain and Latin America.

One bull knocked the 56-year-old Franklin down in the ring at this border city south of San Diego, Calif. His foot was injured. Franklin couldn't kill his second bull. A Mexican bullfighter dispatched it.

Franklin took to bullfighting while studying art in Mexico. It started with a dare. Told no American had ever succeeded before, he said:

"If you've got guts, you can do anything."

His career brought him fame and fortune. Bullfighting experts regarded him as the only successful American matador in history.

Once he killed six bulls in an afternoon. The excitement caused a bullfighter in the stands to die of a heart attack.

Franklin estimated he killed more than 2,000 bulls and earned several million dollars in his career.

The bullfighter from Brooklyn once recalled how doubtful he was when he entered the ring at Seville:

"I stood there and wondered. Should I take a taxi back to Madrid, or should I kill the bull before he kills me?

"My decision is history."

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

Toronto, Ont. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished quickly and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only $1.25 for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

'Long Knives' Story Told By Hitler

LONDON (Reuters).—Hitler's own story of Germany's "Night of the Long Knives" on June 30, 1934, when storm-troop leader Ernst Rohm and more than 150 of his own brownshirts were killed in a purge that left Hitler undisputed party chief, was told here yesterday.

It appeared in a new series of official German documents captured by the Allies when Berlin fell.

Hitler himself gave the massacre its "Long Knives" title taken from a line in one of the earliest Nazi marching songs. The purge of the brownshirts was a major landmark in the Fuehrer's rise to power.

Funeral Wednesday

Polio Claims Sister's Life

Funeral services will be held in Duncan Wednesday for British Columbia's second polio victim of the year, a sister of the first victim.

Mrs. Vernon Erickson, 26, a resident of Maple Bay Road in the Duncan area and mother of four, died during the weekend in Royal Jubilee Hospital after 15 days in an iron lung.

Her sister, Mrs. Marguerite Gibbs, died in the same hospital one week ago.

Mrs. Gibbs is reported to have received the full three-injection series of Salk anti-polio shots in the United States, but Mrs. Erickson had received none.

Mrs. Erickson's four children had received the series of doses of Salk vaccine but are being kept under close observation by hospital officials.

Mrs. Erickson was thought to be over the worst phase of the disease when she became critically ill on Friday evening. She became completely paralyzed before her death.

Her husband, a logging truck driver recently employed at Britannia Beach, said "We should have got the shots but we just let it ride."

Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical administrator of Royal Jubilee Hospital, said that having two cases within a family at the same time was quite usual.

Mrs. Erickson is survived by her husband and four children, Teresa, Kenneth, Leif and Derek; her mother, Mrs. E. E. Mourant at Duncan; her father, Arthur Mourant, Victoria; a brother, Richard Mourant of Duncan; and sister Susan Mourant, New Westminster.

Funeral will be from Hirst's funeral home in Duncan at 2 p.m. on Wednesday and burial will be in the famliy plot at Mountain View Cemetery.

Five Charges

Convicted Victorian Warned

DUNCAN—A Victoria man, who has been convicted of obstructing a police officer, doing wilful damage, theft of a bicycle, assaulting a police officer and giving wrong information to police, was told to "watch" his step when he appeared in court here yesterday.

"If you don't, with that pedigree, you'll end up in the big house," said Magistrate A. C. Sutton to William J. L. Todd.

He made the remarks after convicting Todd of fraud in the passing of a worthless cheque for $8.07 here on Aug. 30, 1957, at a supermarket.

Todd pleaded not guilty, and claimed he did not know his account was overdrawn. He said the Duncan and District Credit Union had always extended him credit anyway.

Police asked for a conviction on the grounds that Todd knew he had no money and had fled from the district two days after the offence, leaving an outstanding loan of $112 that is still unpaid.

Todd was defended by Allan Bigelow, a Victoria lawyer.

The New Brunswick travel bureau says there are 200 covered bridges in the province.

More Big Parks Needed But City Not Suffering

Victoria needs more neighborhood parks of eight to 20 acres like Central and Topaz Parks, city parks administrator W. H. Warren said yesterday.

But, he said, Victoria's citizens are "not suffering unduly" from lack of park space.

He was commenting on reference by Colonist columnist G. E. Mortimore to Cheltenham, England, having an acre of parks for each 10 acres of the city's area.

Victoria, Mr. Warren said, has 260 acres of parks for 4,800 acres of city area, "about one-half the requirement accepted by city planners in this continent. The yardstick commonly used is based on population density—one acre for each 100 persons. This would place our requirements at about 560 acres, which would then be better than Cheltenham."

Patients for Profit?

Some private hospitals in Victoria keep elderly people as patients after they have recovered because it is profitable, a rest home operator charged last night.

Mrs. M. E. Brisbin, 1402 Stadacona, a member of the B.C. Rest Homes' Association of Vancouver Island, said the government pays $85 a month elderly welfare cases, but pays $195 to private hospitals.

"I had a man come here, desperate," she said. "He was in a hospital and wanted to get out and keep house for himself. I sent him to the city welfare department, where he got help.

"It would pay the government to have all patients assessed more often. It shouldn't be left to the hospital to do it."

Mrs. Brisbin also hit out at operators of rest homes who do not have provincial licences or adequate supervision.

"The welfare people seem indifferent to the whole affair," she said. "All a person has to do to start operating a rest home is to get a rooming licence at the city hall."

William Hooson, city welfare administrator, said the only recovered patients who continue to live in private hospitals in Victoria are those who have private means and "who like to live in a hospital."

He termed the present situation confusing and said there will be a revamping of the present licencing procedure soon.

U.S. and Canada Model for World

LONDON (UPI)—President Eisenhower held up U.S.-Canadian relations as a model for the rest of the world.

In his television appearance with Prime Minister Macmillan, Eisenhower remarked: "Here is a border more than 3,000 miles long, and yet it is defended by nothing but friendship. There's not a gun anywhere along it.

"That is the kind of thing we must strive to achieve everywhere, whether we are geographical neighbors or not," he said.

Ike, Mac Agree

Arms Race Must End

LONDON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan agreed in their three-day talks to concentrate a Western diplomatic offensive on a new attempt to end the world arms race.

Diplomats who attended some of their meetings reported Monday Eisenhower and Macmillan are issuing secret directives to their experts to work out a new disarmament program.

It is to be ready for negotiation with Russia early in 1960 and will provide for a total cutoff of nuclear weapon output under tight controls.

These other important decisions were disclosed:

On negotiations with Russia, the two countries will try to continue the personal exchanges dramatized by Nikita Khrushchev's forthcoming trip to the U.S.

Action to arrange an early summit conference on the Berlin crisis will be deferred pending outcome of these talks.

If Russia indicates something useful will be achieved Eisenhower then will agree to attend a top-level meeting.

On the Red Chinese-Indian frontier dispute, the two decided against any open offer of aid to Prime Minister Nehru for fear of embarrassing him, but agreed China is unlikely to attack India.

On the uprising in Laos, they decided to provide all the backing that may be needed to sustain the Laotian government.

On the unity of the Atlantic alliance, both men decided to try more actively to support French President de Gaulle in his quest for an Algerian settlement.

On aiding the world's have-not nations, the two agreed to broaden the existing pattern of their aid programs and to seek Russia's co-operation in a world program along these lines.

'Peace Imperative In Our Time'

LONDON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, in an unprecedented TV fireside chat with Prime Minister Macmillan, declared Monday night he favors a summit conference provided that Soviet Premier Khrushchev demonstrates he wants peace as much as the West.

"If we are to have a summit," Eisenhower told Macmillan, "Khrushchev must understand as you and I do that peace is imperative in our time. If Khrushchev realizes this, then the summit meeting would be profitable."

Macmillan said when he read Khrushchev's Berlin ultimatum last November, "I felt the danger of that drift." That was why he went to Russia last February and things "have not turned out too badly."

Referring to the president's invitation to Khrushchev to visit the U.S. Macmillan said: "I feel that with your initiative we are now in a better position."

"Well, Harold," replied Eisenhower, "I think there is one thing we may be very sure about. When we were talking about peace we were talking about something that is imperative in our time."

'Glad Ike's Gone' Fishmonger Says

WENDOVER, England (AP)—"I am a great admirer of President Eisenhower, but in a way I am glad he has left our quiet community," said the fishmonger. "Too much security."

The fishmonger delivers to Chequers, country home of Prime Minister Macmillan, where the president was a guest for two days.

"For years I have been delivering fish and all of a sudden I can't get in with my automobile," said the fishmonger.

"There was much telephoning to the mansion, a quarter of a mile up the path, and finally I got past the first barrier, only to be stopped and questioned four times more. I am glad to say that in the end the fish got to the place where they ought to be, the kitchen of "Chequers."

The milkman had the same trouble.

"Years in these parts and now strange policemen try to keep me out," he complained.

Diners Illustrious

LONDON (Reuters)—President Eisenhower dined Monday night as Prime Minister Macmillan's guest of honor with an illustrious company that included three former prime ministers—Sir Winston Churchill, Sir Anthony Eden and Earl Attlee. There were 38 at the dinner.

Churchill, 84, had flown specially from a Riviera holiday to share in the welcome to his old friend the president.

Other Staff Leaders Expected to Resign

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—India's army chief of staff has resigned in a political dispute following stepped-up invasion attacks by the Chinese communists in India's northern border areas, it was reported yesterday.

Meanwhile it was reported that Indian troops were in retreat after bitter fighting against the Chinese in at least one area. The Indian soldiers, unable to obtain supplies in the isolated and weather-pounded area, destroyed border check posts and withdrew from Longju. Their radio was silent.

POLITICS BLAMED

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya quit his post of staff chief because politics was not kept out of the army, the Calcutta newspaper, The Statesman, said.

The newspaper said the air force and navy chiefs also were expected to resign.

Other sources reported Thimayya also was dissatisfied with the promotion lists announced by the defence services.

The resignation reports came after Prime Minister Jawarlal Nehru told parliament Monday that India must solve its border dispute with Communist China by words, not war.

MILITARY CRISIS

Nehru conferred with his army chiefs as the military crisis grew.

Calcutta dispatches meanwhile reported that the Chinese Communist incursion from Tibet was gaining momentum after Red troops invaded the Siang and Lohat division of the wild and rugged northeast frontier agency.

It was also reported that Communist invaders had entered the Himalayan state of Bhutan, an Indian protectorate.

BAD WEATHER

An ammunition shortage and bad weather were blamed for the Indian retreat. It was said to be impossible to drop supplies and ammunition to beleaguered border posts from the air because of the bad weather.

The reports said "a few" Indian frontier posts near the McMahon line had been lost to Chinese troops that swarmed across the border from Tibet.

The McMahon line is the vaguely-defined northern border of India, adopted by treaty with China and Tibet in 1852. The Chinese have since claimed some of the same territory along the border that India insists is hers.

IN TERROR

There were earlier reports that Chinese troops had entered the tiny Himalayan kingdom of Bhutan and residents of Bhutan and the independent state of Sikkim were fleeing in terror.

Anti-Communist tension in India led to Nehru's decision to address parliament. He rejected a member of parliament's suggestion that India bomb away the portion of a Red Chinese road the communists built across Indian territory in 1957.

Nehru said his government's policy would be two-fold in the present crisis with China: "To strengthen our defenses and not go to war to settle disputes but settle them through conferences and negotiations."

Boys Turned Into Torches

NEW YORK (UPI)—A teenaged boy turned two seven-year-old boys into human torches yesterday.

Police commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy immediately stepped in to stem the wave of juvenile violence in New York by sending a 1,400-man police task force into the streets to battle teenager terrorists.

Kennedy called a news conference at the end of nine days in which four teenagers were killed by young toughs and a number were injured.

About a score of slayings have occurred during the summer juvenile crime wave and nearly 40 persons have been injured.

"We expect stern justice . . . we are meeting the problem with all the manpower available."

Kennedy called policemen and women off gambling and prostitution details to track down street hoodlums. He transferred 300 rookies from the police academy to crime-ridden slum districts.

Kennedy hastily called the news conference after a day in which two Puerto Rican boys suffered serious burns when they were doused with cleaning fluid as they played in a tenement and two alleged young killers in another case were nearly mobbed.

A 17-year-old boy was seized for questioning in the human torch case.

A few hours earlier an angry crowd had gathered outside a police station in Hell's Kitchen, a block from the Broadway theatre district. The crowd shouted insults at four street toughs charged with killing two 16-year-old boys on a playground.

A passerby heard the boys' screams and rushed into the building. He managed to get the two boys to a streetcorner where two policemen found them in the midst of a crowd.

Typhoid Fells Eight

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont. (CP)—Eight typhoid fever cases have now been reported in this area about 120 miles north of North Bay, Dr. E. R. Harris, local medical officer, said Monday.

The victims are known to have attended a gathering of about 200 six weeks ago. A number of others who attended the gathering are being examined for traces of typhoid.

Nuclear Peril

Refuse Warheads CCF Tells Canada

WINNIPEG (CP)—The CCF national council Monday called on Canada to refuse to store nuclear warheads in this country.

The possession of warheads by an increased number of nations seriously increases the danger of nuclear war, the CCF statement said.

"In addition, the possession of nuclear warheads increases our military dependence on the U.S. and in consequence diminishes our influence for good in the councils of the nations."

De Gaulle Hopeful Of U.S. Backing

PARIS (Reuters) — President Charles de Gaulle holds out hope that President Eisenhower may endorse his viewpoint on revolt-torn Algeria during their talks this week, informed sources said Monday.

French officials think the chances are good for the statesmen to reach agreement on Algeria, France sharing American atomic secrets and France securing joint control of American atomic missiles on French soil.

Some advisers indicated the French president looks to the talks, starting Wednesday, with a certain amount of optimism.

Red Mobs Battle Calcutta Police

CALCUTTA, India (UPI)—Communist-led mobs battled police in partly-blacked out Calcutta last night in an attempt to paralyze the life of the city.

Many policemen were injured in clashes during the day. Several civilians were injured when police dispersed a mob in front of the state governor's residence. Shoes, shirts and other articles of wearing apparel littered the street after the police charge.

The rioting apparently started as a mass protest demonstration against the city government's food policy.

Police dispersed 25,000 anti-government demonstrators with tear gas barrages which infuriated the demonstrators. They hurled brickbats at every police car and motorcycle in sight.

The rioters also smashed electric light bulbs to darken areas where police concentrations were reported.

Police lost control of the mobs in some areas for a while.

Strike Report May Be Made

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks may now have received a report from mediator Dr. John J. Deutsch on his efforts to settle the B.C. coast lumber strike.

But the labor minister wouldn't confirm nor deny it yesterday. Nor would he say if he had extended the 14-day period ended yesterday which Dr. Deutsch was given for his mediation and report.

BEFORE CABINET

If the report was received, however, it could have been taken before a cabinet meeting held late yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Deutsch, retiring head of the University of B.C. economics department, was reported by The Canadian Press to have left Vancouver by air for Toronto Sunday. He will assume a new university post in Kingston, Ont., this month.

The strike is now going into its ninth week.

PNE Lion Slashes Trainer

VANCOUVER (CP) — A three-year-old African Lion attacked his trainer during a Shrine circus performance at the Pacific National Exhibition here Monday.

The trainer, Prince El-Kigordo, 47, was seriously wounded and underwent surgery in hospital Monday night.

The lion, Caesar, clawed his left shoulder and left side from the hip to the armpit. The trainer was hurt by the same lion May 1 at Springfield, Mass.

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Crown Prince Savang Vattana flew here from the royal capital of Luang Prabang Monday to be installed as regent of Communist-threatened Laos during the illness of his father, King Sisavang Vong.

There were no new tactical reports of the fighting.

Apologetic Message Sent Poles 20 Years After Nazi Invasion

BONN (AP)—A German message of peace and friendship toward the Polish people was broadcast by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Monday night on the eve of the 20th anniversary of Hitler's attack on Poland.

Adenauer apologized for that attack and expressed his conviction that "the new Germany will one day be a good neighbor of Poland."

The 83-year-old chancelor explained he was not making a political speech but was expressing the special word that was due to Poland which, through the invasion of Hitler Germany and the Soviet Union, became the first victim of the war.

Victoria-Port Angeles Ship Help Up

Strike Stalls Start of Ferry Service

Start of the proposed year-round ferry services between Victoria and Port Angeles will be delayed by a strike of iron workers which has tied up shipyards on the west coast of the United States.

Robert Acheson, president of Black Ball Transportation Inc., Seattle, said yesterday that the strike which began last week has stopped all work on the "95 per cent completed" ferry Coho.

It had been hoped to get the ferry into operation on or shortly after Oct. 1. Work was proceeding about six weeks ahead of schedule when it was halted by the strike. The builders have until Nov. 14 to complete the contract.

Mr. Acheson said until the strike was settled the length of the delay could not be determined.

The 341-foot ferry, big enough to carry 1,000 passengers and 125 cars, will make one round trip daily during the winter months. Service will be stepped up as required.

During the summer tourist season the Coho will fill a gap left by withdrawal of the CPR Victoria-Port Angeles ferry. This year, despite four round trips daily by Washington State Ferries Mv Kalakala, tourists complained that it was necessary to line up for several hours to obtain car space for Port Angeles.

Tire Blast Victim 'Satisfactory'

A Chemainus man injured Friday in a tire explosion on the Trans-Canada Highway, and brought to Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday, was reported yesterday in "satisfactory" condition.

N. W. Hollett was prying a steel rim from a grader wheel when the tube exploded, and he was struck in the face by the rim.

For Good Work

Smile Draws $20

A Colonist account of a camping trip bringing happy grins to the face of an emotionally disturbed boy who had never been known to smile before has had a heart-warming result.

A reader, touched by "this heavenly work," sent a donation of $20 through the Colonist to Kenneth Shore, treatment director of Sevenoaks school, to help with the work.

Mr. Shore, just back from a second camping trip with eight emotionally disturbed boys of the school (sponsored by the Victoria Family and Children's Service) received the donation with gratitude, because, he said, the trips were expensive — but worth every penny.

The boys, from nine to 12 years old, were taken camping at a secluded, undeveloped provincial park. Through the happy relationships on the trips, Mr. Shore said, all the boys were aided in a way impossible in ordinary surroundings.

Emergency Number Not '999'

An emergency telephone number will be established soon in the legislative buildings. But it won't be "999."

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant said Friday an emergency number of the 999 type was planned for the buildings. But he added yesterday that it couldn t be 999, because dialing "9" on the internal system at the buildings would automatically give the caller an outside line.

"There has been no specific number set up yet," Mr. Chant said. "But we are working on arrangements, and a number will be brought out—a number easy to remember."

Drowned Woman Identified

A Victoria woman found drowned Saturday between Savary and Cortes Islands in Georgia Strait was identified last night as Miss Annie Balck, 43, who had been employed for eight years as a cook for the family of Thomas A. Fee, 2031 Runnymede.

Miss Balck, who came here from Finland and who just this summer had taken out her Canadian citizenship papers, was holidaying with the Fees on Savary Island and had gone out fishing alone in a small dinghy.

It is not known what happened to her.

The body was found by the skipper of a commercial fishing boat and was taken to Campbell River, where an autopsy was performed. Coroner Dr. N. B. Hall ruled that death was caused by accidental drowning.

Saturday Night Riot

Gang Uprising Causes Concern

Summons Issued In Tire Slashing

Concern over an apparent increase in juvenile gang troubles which erupted in Saturday night's riot at the Midwest Shows by the Curling Rink, was indicated yesterday by civic and municipal spokesmen.

"Concerning the trouble at the fair," said Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt, "I know only what I've read in the papers.

"There seems to be a pattern developing in behavior of this type of youth. Only in recent years have these hoodlums acted in this way.

"The trouble apparently starts in the home—but then some of these poor young devile have no real home, or proper upbringing. Unfortunately, some who have homes still lack the upbringing.

"It seems to me that more authority, and more backing, should be given the schools and teachers in matters of discipline. I know my own parents never disputed a properly-administered strap at school."

Mayor Percy Scurrah and police commissioner William Hamilton had no comment, pending a more complete report from city police on Saturday night's affray, during which a Gypsy tent which also contained a ring-toss game was destroyed by flames started by a "bomb."

City police, still making an intensive investigation of the affray, yesterday issued a summons to a city youth in connection with slashing of car tires in the region of the carnival Saturday evening.

Trouble at the carnival started Friday night, in a dispute between Jesse Campbell, operator of the ring-toss game, and a young Victorian. The dispute grew into a fight between Campbell and the youth, with Campbell the victor.

It is believed Saturday's "riot" was staged in revenge by a gang of city youths.

Chief Constable John Blackstock of Victoria said he had had no complaints whatever regarding operation of the games or behavior of members of the carnival company.

Of Hugh Davis, manager of the carnival, the chief said he was a "square shooter who did his level best to run a good show. But he can't be everywhere at once."

Nanaimo

Hit-Run Drivers May Go to Jail

NANAIMO—Drivers who are involved in accidents which cause bodily injuries, then leave the scene of the accidents will face jail if convicted in Nanaimo police court.

Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts intimated he would tighten up on hit-and-run driving offences, increasing fines and licence suspensions of those involved.

He said there had been too many such offences in Nanaimo recently.

John Raymond Smith of Nanaimo was fined $125 and lost his driving privileges for three months.

He side-swiped an American car and sped away. The tourist gave chase and Smith was later apprehended by police.

Depending on circumstances, fines for this type of offence in future will be not less than $125.

The magistrate then promised to imprison any hit-and-run driver who caused injury to any person.

No 'Slasher' In Duncan

DUNCAN — City council is not made of "tree slashers," said Mayor Jack Dobson last night in answer to "numerous" letters received at city hall asking that a mound near the centre of town be saved for a park.

He also assured farmers using the city market stalls near the Armories that if the city leases the Indian land for a parking lot "we hope to include a market with it."

The market faces north on to Trunk Road, behind it is the property that may be used for a city-operated parking lot, and behind it the mound of earth shaded by old trees.

Illegible Numbers Banned

DUNCAN — The city can now prosecute anyone for not having a legible street number on their homes.

The amendment made last night by city council to the 1935 buildings regulations bylaw stipulates numbers must now be in a "conspicuous" place.

One Extra Trip On Labor Day

VANCOUVER — One additional round trip on the CPR's Vancouver-Nanaimo run will be made by the Princess Patricia on Labor Day.

The Patricia will leave Nanaimo at 8.30 p.m., arriving in Vancouver at 10.40 p.m. and 15 minutes later will head back to Nanaimo arriving there at 2.15 a.m. All times listed are daylight saving time.

Split-Second Thought

Driver Praised For Fast Action

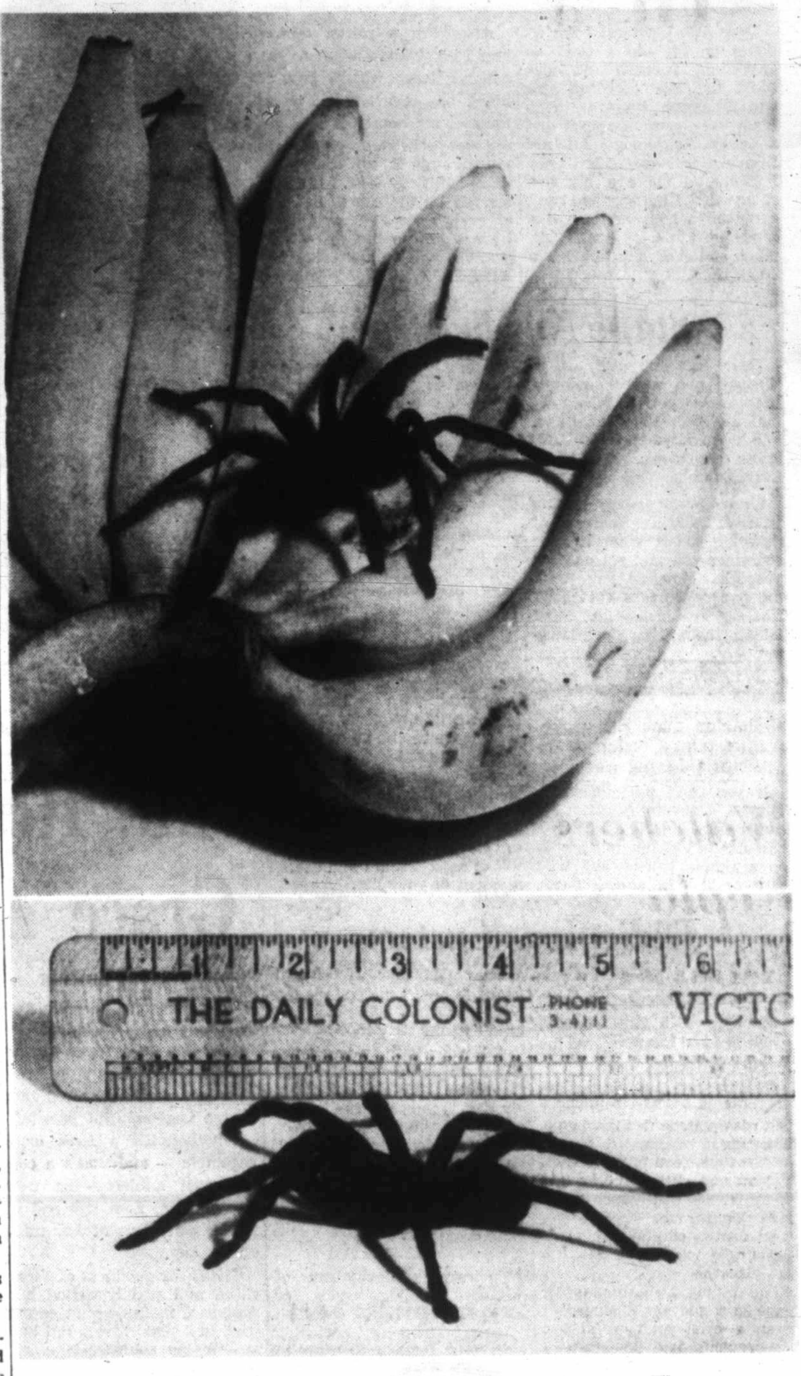
MILL BAY—A driver from Washington State has been commended by officials here for his "split-second" thinking Sunday that prevented a serious accident between his car and a motorcycle.

Police said Meryl F. Musselman of Lynden, Wash., slammed on his brakes while doing 50 miles an hour and "threw" the car into a complete spin so it only struck the bike a glancing blow with the car's side.

Taken to hospital was Charles Wilbur Keay, 19, 206 Niagara, Victoria, driver of the bike who received a severe foot injury. His passenger, Maureen Ashe, 16, 860 Parkland Drive, Esquimalt, was just shaken up.

Musselman's car made a 180-degree turn and stayed on the road.

The accident occured about 1½ miles north of the rock-cut viewpoint at this end of the Malahat.



Unwelcome Visitor from Tropics

Unwelcome visitor to A. P. Slade and Company's Victoria store was this six-inch tarantula from South America. The huge spider arrived in a load of bananas but was chilled and slow moving when found. Yesterday, in the firm's business office, the creature warmed up and was reluctant to return to a glass jar after the photograph. It will be sent to the provincial museum.—(Colonist photo.)

Five Charges

Convicted Victorian Warned

DUNCAN—A Victoria man, who has been convicted of obstructing a police officer, doing wilful damage, theft of a bicycle, assaulting a police officer and giving wrong information to police, was told to "watch" his step when he appeared in court here yesterday.

"If you don't, with that pedigree, you'll end up in the big house," said Magistrate A. C. Sutton to William J. L. Todd.

He made the remarks after convicting Todd of fraud in the passing of a worthless cheque for $8.07 here on Aug. 30, 1957, at a supermarket.

Todd pleaded not guilty, and claimed he did not know his account was overdrawn. He said the Duncan and District Credit Union had always extended him credit anyway.

Police asked for a conviction on the grounds that Todd knew he had no money and had fled from the district two days after the offence, leaving an outstanding loan of $112 that is still unpaid.

Todd was defended by Allan Bigelow, a Victoria lawyer.

The New Brunswick travel bureau says there are 200 covered bridges in the province.

Mrs. Vernon Erickson, 26, a resident of Maple Bay Road in the Duncan area and mother of four, died during the weekend in Royal Jubilee Hospital after 15 days in an iron lung.

Her sister, Mrs. Marguerite Gibbs, died in the same hospital one week ago.

Mrs. Gibbs is reported to have received the full three-injection series of Salk anti-polio shots in the United States, but Mrs. Erickson had received none.

Mrs. Erickson's four children had received the series of doses of Salk vaccine but are being kept under close observation by hospital officials.

Mrs. Erickson was thought to be over the worst phase of the disease when she became critically ill on Friday evening. She became completely paralyzed before her death.

Her husband, a logging truck driver recently employed at Britannia Beach, said "We should have got the shots but we just let it ride."

Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical administrator of Royal Jubilee Hospital, said that having two cases within a family at the same time was quite usual.

Mrs. Erickson is survived by her husband and four children, Teresa, Kenneth, Leif and Derek; her mother, Mrs. E. E. Mourant at Duncan; her father, Arthur Mourant, Victoria; a brother, Richard Mourant of Duncan; and sister Susan Mourant, New Westminster.

Funeral will be from Hirst's funeral home in Duncan at 2 p.m. on Wednesday and burial will be in the famliy plot at Mountain View Cemetery.

NANAIMO — Three new industries for Nanaimo were announced by the local industrial development commission.

One is the $250,000 warehouse for "salt cake" which is being built by the Staufer Chemical Company of California.

The sodium sulphate-"salt cake" is for distribution to Island pulp mills.

Imperial Oil Company has begun construction of a $750,000 storage tank at Brechin Point.

Canadian Liquid Air Company's $100,000 development at Northfield has also been started.

Site for RCMP Barracks Sold by Campbell River

CAMPBELL RIVER—Village commissioners here decided Friday to sell 150 feet by 150 feet of the newly acquired Lourdes Hospital property in the centre of town for $2,500 for use as the site of a new RCMP barracks.

RCMP originally planned to erect the barracks at 2nd Avenue, but because of a petition objecting to a barracks being situated in a residential area, had considered purchasing a property at 1st Avenue, outside the village boundary.

In Friday's meeting with RCMP officials and the Willow Point water board, village commissioner chairman J. D. Bundy, who had earlier told the RCMP they could connect with the village water supply and sewerage system even though they are outside the village limits, said that it was now a village ruling that no more water connections were being allowed outside the boundary.

Commissioner R. D. Jamieson proposed that the RCMP build on a portion of the hospital property at a price to be arrived at by mutual agreement. His motion was approved.

Fair 'Best Yet'

COBBLE HILL—Fair president William Dunn said yesterday this year's event will be "the best yet" in the farm-style fair's 50-year history.

And to help it along "cooking facilities" are being added to the Centennial Hall.

"Now the exhibitors will be able to cook their own food, with their own utensils, of course," said Mr. Dunn. "It has been a nuisance in the past, not being able to cook at the fair."

Next year fair officials propose to add sleeping accommodations, he said.

Duncan, Cowichan At Sword Points

DUNCAN—The smouldering anger between the councils of this city and North Cowichan municipality that dates back to 1912, broke into the open last night with charges that the municipality is "neglecting their responsibility" towards the upkeep of Pioneer Park.

The spark was kindled at a city council meeting last night when the municipality returned $34.27 of $305.89 in taxes paid by the city on the park, which is just north of town and in North Cowichan. The city pays for the upkeep of the park and annual property taxes to North Cowichan. The municipality does not contribute to the park's upkeep.

"I think we should write them a letter thanking them for their donation. More than half the people using it are residents in the municipality, so we should ask for more," said Ald. Steve Saunders.

It remained a quiet, controlled discussion, with Mayor Jack Dobson emphasizing, "I want it made clear we are not angry."

There has been tension between the two bodies as well as the citizens since the city broke away from the large district municipality before the First World War.

There have also been unreported outbursts of tempers between the two governments recently about centennial celebrations, Pioneer Park business and about policy of the two municipalities in connection with the Cowichan Class B exhibition.

"It's about time they accepted their responsibilities in the south end, and quit using the north end as a dodge," said the mayor.

"If they don't, I think it's up to the people in this end to get after their government to see that they do it," he said.

Hard-working Ald. John Kerrone, who has headed most of the co-ordinating of work on the Cowichan Exhibition beside Pioneer Park, commented, "They should take over 8.8 acres of the exhibition (the same size as Pioneer Park) and then maybe they'd be taking over part of their load."

"It is unfair that we, the city, have to carry the load," said the mayor. "What would have happened if we didn't?"

"Nothing. There'd be no Pioneer Park," said Ald Steve Saunders.

"It's time it came into the open," said the mayor.
open," said the mayor. "Duncan is underwriting the whole thing. One of the municipal councillors said one day 60 per cent of the people using it are from the municipality. Then he even suggested that we add three mills to city taxes to pay for the work on the park."

ANGRY ARMY CHIEF QUITS AS INDIANS FLEE CHINESE

Ike, Mac Agree

Arms Race Must End

LONDON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan agreed in their three-day talks to concentrate a Western diplomatic offensive on a new attempt to end the world arms race.

Diplomats who attended some of their meetings reported Monday Eisenhower and Macmillan are issuing secret directives to their experts to work out a new disarmament program.

It is to be ready for negotiation with Russia early in 1960 and will provide for a total cutoff of nuclear weapon output under tight controls.

These other important decisions were disclosed:

On negotiations with Russia, the two countries will try to continue the personal exchanges dramatized by Nikita Khrushchev's forthcoming trip to the U.S.

Action to arrange an early summit conference on the Berlin crisis will be deferred pending outcome of these talks.

If Russia indicates something useful will be achieved Eisenhower then will agree to attend a top-level meeting.

On the Red Chinese-Indian frontier dispute, the two decided against any open offer of aid to Prime Minister Nehru for fear of embarrassing him, but agreed China is unlikely to attack India.

On the uprising in Laos, they decided to provide all the backing that may be needed to sustain the Laotian government.

On the unity of the Atlantic alliance, both men decided to try more actively to support French President de Gaulle in his quest for an Algerian settlement.

On aiding the world's have-not nations, the two agreed to broaden the existing pattern of their aid programs and to seek Russia's co-operation in a world program along these lines.

'Peace Imperative In Our Time'

LONDON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, in an unprecedented TV fireside chat with Prime Minister Macmillan, declared Monday night he favors a summit conference provided that Soviet Premier Khrushchev demonstrates he wants peace as much as the West.

"If we are to have a summit," Eisenhower told Macmillan, "Khrushchev must understand as you and I do that peace is imperative in our time. If Khrushchev realizes this, then the summit meeting would be profitable."

Macmillan said when he read Khrushchev's Berlin ultimatum last November, "I felt the danger" of a drift into war. That was why he went to Russia last February and things "have not turned out too badly."

Referring to the president's invitation to Khrushchev to visit the U.S. Macmillan said: "I feel that with your initiative we are now in a better position."

"Well, Harold," replied Eisenhower, "I think there is one thing we may be very sure about. When we were talking about peace we were talking about something that is imperative in our time."

'Glad Ike's Gone' Fishmonger Says

WENDOVER, England (AP)—"I am a great admirer of President Eisenhower, but in a way I am glad he has left our quiet community," said the fishmonger. "Too much security."

The fishmonger delivers to Chequers, country home of Prime Minister Macmillan, where the president was a guest for two days.

"For years I have been delivering fish and all of a sudden I can't get in with my automobile," said the fishmonger.

"There was much telephoning to the mansion, a quarter of a mile up the path, and finally I got past the first barrier, only to be stopped and questioned four times more. I am glad to say that in the end the fish got to the place where they ought to be, the kitchen of Chequers."

The milkman had the same trouble.

"Years in these parts and now strange policemen try to keep me out," he complained.

Diners Illustrious

LONDON (Reuters)—President Eisenhower dined Monday night as Prime Minister Macmillan's guest of honor with an illustrious company that included three former prime ministers—Sir Winston Churchill, Sir Anthony Eden and Earl Attlee. There were 38 at the dinner.

Churchill, 84, had flown specially from a Riviera holiday to share in the welcome to his old friend the president.

Boys Turned Into Torches

NEW YORK (UPI)—A teenaged boy turned two seven-year-old boys into human torches yesterday.

Police commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy immediately stepped in to stem the wave of juvenile violence in New York by sending a 1,400-man police task force into the streets to battle teenager terrorists.

Kennedy called a news conference at the end of nine days in which four teenagers were killed by young toughs and a number were injured.

About a score of slayings have occurred during the summer juvenile crime wave and nearly 40 persons have been injured.

"We expect stern justice . . . we are meeting the problem with all the manpower available."

Kennedy called policemen and women off gambling and prostitution details to track down street hoodlums. He transferred 300 rookies from the police academy to crime-ridden slum districts.

Kennedy hastily called the news conference after a day in which two Puerto Rican boys suffered serious burns when they were doused with cleaning fluid as they played in a tenement and two alleged young killers in another case were nearly mobbed.

A 17-year-old boy was seized for questioning in the human torch case.

A passerby heard the boys' screams and rushed into the building. He managed to get the two boys to a streetcorner where two policemen found them in the midst of a crowd.

Nuclear Peril

Refuse Warheads CCF Tells Canada

WINNIPEG (CP)—The CCF national council Monday called on Canada to refuse to store nuclear warheads in this country.

The possession of warheads by an increased number of nations seriously increases the danger of nuclear war, the CCF statement said.

"In addition, the possession of nuclear warheads increases our military dependence on the U.S. and in consequence diminishes our influence for good in the councils of the nations."

De Gaulle Hopeful Of U.S. Backing

PARIS (Reuters) — President Charles de Gaulle holds out hope that President Eisenhower may endorse his viewpoint on revolt-torn Algeria during their talks this week, informed sources said Monday.

French officials think the chances are good for the statesmen to reach agreement on Algeria, France sharing American atomic secrets and France securing joint control of American atomic missiles on French soil.

Some advisers indicated the French president looks to the talks, starting Wednesday, with a certain amount of optimism.

Others May Resign Over Political Issue

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—India's army chief of staff has resigned in a political dispute following stepped-up invasion attacks by the Chinese Communists in India's northern border areas, it was reported yesterday.

Meanwhile it was reported that Indian troops were in retreat after bitter fighting against the Chinese in at least one area. The Indian soldiers, unable to obtain supplies in the isolated and weather-pounded area, destroyed border check posts and withdrew from Longju. Their radio was silent.

POLITICS BLAMED

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya quit his post of staff chief because politics was not kept out of the army, the Calcutta newspaper, The Statesman, said.

The newspaper said the air force and navy chiefs also were expected to resign.

Other sources reported Thimayya also was dissatisfied with the promotion lists announced by the defence services.

The resignation reports came after Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told parliament Monday that India must solve its border dispute with Communist China by words, not war.

MILITARY CRISIS

Nehru conferred with his army chiefs as the military crisis grew.

Calcutta dispatches meanwhile reported that the Chinese Communist incursion from Tibet was gaining momentum after Red troops invaded the Siang and Lohat division of the wild and rugged northeast frontier agency.

It was also reported that Communist invaders had entered the Himalayan state of Bhutan, an Indian protectorate.

BAD WEATHER

An ammunition shortage and bad weather were blamed for the Indian retreat. It was said to be impossible to drop supplies and ammunition to beleaguered border posts from the air because of the bad weather.

The reports said "a few" Indian frontier posts near the McMahon line had been lost to Chinese troops that swarmed across the border from Tibet.

The McMahon line is the vaguely-defined northern border of India, adopted by treaty with China and Tibet in 1852. The Chinese have since claimed some of the same territory along the border that India insists is hers.

IN TERROR

There were earlier reports that Chinese troops had entered the tiny Himalayan kingdom of Bhutan and residents of Bhutan and the independent state of Sikkim were fleeing in terror.

Anti-Communist tension in India led to Nehru's decision to address parliament. He rejected a member of parliament's suggestion that India bomb away the portion of a Red Chinese road the communists built across Indian territory in 1957.

Nehru said his government's policy would be twofold in the present crisis with China: "To strengthen our defenses and not go to war to settle disputes but settle them through conferences and negotiations."

Red Mobs Battle Calcutta Police

CALCUTTA, India (UPI)—Communist-led mobs battled police in partly-blacked out Calcutta last night in an attempt to paralyze the life of the city.

Many policemen were injured in clashes during the day. Several civilians were injured when police dispersed a mob in front of the state governor's residence. Shoes, shirts and other articles of wearing apparel littered the street after the police charge.

The rioting apparently started as a mass protest demonstration against the city government's food policy.

Police dispersed 25,000 anti-government demonstrators with tear gas barrages which infuriated the demonstrators. They hurled brickbats at every police car and motorcycle in sight.

The rioters also smashed electric light bulbs to darken areas where police concentrations were reported.

Police lost control of the mobs in some areas for a while.

Strike Report May Be Made

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks may now have received a report from mediator Dr. John J. Deutsch on his efforts to settle the B.C. coast lumber strike.

But the labor minister wouldn't confirm nor deny it yesterday. Nor would he say if he had extended the 14-day period ended yesterday which Dr. Deutsch was given for his mediation and report.

BEFORE CABINET

If the report was received, however, it could have been taken before a cabinet meeting held late yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Deutsch, retiring head of the University of B.C. economics department, was reported by The Canadian Press to have left Vancouver by air for Toronto Sunday. He will assume a new university post in Kingston, Ont., this month.

The strike is now going into its ninth week.

Apologetic Message Sent Poles

BONN (AP)—A German message of peace and friendship toward the Polish people was broadcast by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Monday night on the eve of the 20th anniversary of Hitler's attack on Poland.

Adenauer apologized for that attack and expressed his conviction that "the new Germany will one day be a good neighbor of Poland."

The 83-year-old chancellor explained he was not making a political speech but was expressing the special word that was due to Poland which, through the invasion of Hitler Germany and the Soviet Union, became the first victim of the war.
